LOWEST TURKEY PRICES IN YEARS
WHOLESALE BELIEVE

Present Outlook is That Gobblers Will Not Be Too Expensive for Thanksgiving Menus—Vegetables in Plentiful Supply and at Fair Prices

The Thanksgiving dinner this year will cost the family less than it has for several years back.
So say the marketmen of Lowell to the housewives who intend to adorn their holiday table with turkey or other fowl and the many "fixins." The present prospect is that turkeys will retail about 55 cents a pound. The choicer birds, especially those from the north, will bring probably five to ten cents more.
As yet turkeys have not entered the market in quantity and most of the local wholesale houses have yet to receive instructions as to the prices their shipments will be expected to bring. One local wholesaler when confronted today with two clippings, one saying that turkey would be about 55 cents and the other saying 80 cents, was quite emphatic in asserting his belief that the first price was much nearer correct.
The bird last year at this time sold at from 55 to 75 cents. This year's price decline is due as much as any

and France Are Approaching Parting of the WaysNO PLAN TO TAKE HAMBURG

High French Officials Know Nothing of Plan for Occupation by French Troops

Little Doubt That French Government Is Thinking of Doing Something

PARIS, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press) High officials of the French foreign office declared today they knew nothing of any plan for the occupation of Hamburg by French forces. The idea was declared to be out of the question.

There is little doubt that the French government is thinking seriously of doing something to show Germany that the treaty of Versailles must be carried out with respect to military control as well as regards reparations, but Hamburg is not considered as lying in the area which France could cover advantageously.

Whether the French government intends to take separate action in case Great Britain definitely refuses to join in such a movement, cannot be confirmed in official circles. The tone of the comment in official quarters, however, shows that Premier Poincaré regards the question of military control in Germany as a really serious matter requiring action. It is clear that it will be with reference to this question rather than to the presence of the former crown prince in Germany.

If action is taken to oblige the Germans to facilitate control of their armament production, however, the question of the crown prince will probably be included in any ultimatum France may send to Berlin. France is expected to ask that he choose a residence in some neutral country not bordering on Germany.

Premier Poincaré's position in respect to the application of penalties upon Germany, is thought to have been greatly reinforced by assurances from the little entente and Poland that they agree with the French attitude.

Beloved Pastor

Forceful Eulogy Delivered by Rev. Percy E. Thomas of First Congregational

Inspiring and impressive obsequies marked the funeral services this afternoon of Rev. Caleb E. Fisher, D.D., late pastor of the First Universalist church, who died last Tuesday after a brief illness.

The services took place at 2:30 o'clock in the church where he had presided for 25 years, and were attended by scores of clergy and laymen prominent in the life of the city, all desirous of paying their final respects to one of Lowell's most sincere and beloved churchmen. Rev. Percy E. Thomas, pastor of the First Congregational church, was in charge of the service and delivered a forceful eulogy. The body lay in state at the foot of the pulpit, which was flanked and backed on all sides with flowers of rare beauty and color. From 12 o'clock until 2 o'clock the casket was open.

ALLIES ARE ON VERGE OF BREAK

France's Threatened Penalties Against Germany Unacceptable to England

Are Violation of Treaty and Would Plunge Germany
Deeper Into Mire

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press) Indications are multiplying that England and France are approaching the parting of the ways on the question of how to deal with Germany.

France's threatened penalties against Germany, it Berlin does not recede from its position on the extension of the former crown prince and the re-establishment of full allied military control in Germany, are declared in government circles here to be wholly unacceptable to England. These penalties are understood to be:

Seizure of more railroads east of the occupied area, which would probably include the eventual occupation of Frankfurt by the French.

Consolidation and extension of the Franco-Belgian military position in the Ruhr.
Occupation of Hamburg and Bremen. (Paris dispatches today said high officials of the French foreign office declared they knew nothing of any plan for French occupation of Hamburg, and the ground for this disclaimer would seem also to exclude Bremen.)

Great Britain holds that all these threatened sanctions not only violate the treaty of Versailles but would plunge Germany into a deeper economic and political mire from which it would be impossible to extricate her.

The British government is considering the whole situation today with a view to reconstructing its delegate to the council of ambassadors in the light of Premier Poincaré's threatened action. There is no indication, however, that the cabinet will yield on its already declared policy respecting the return of Frederick William and the extension of the allied military measures in occupied Germany.

The view prevails among officials here that M. Poincaré's conditions are largely of an intimidatory nature, designed to coerce Germany and at the same time force a change of attitude.

There appears to be a growing consensus on the part of the government toward France and her recent activities. This reversal of sentiment had its inception in what the British believe to have been open connivance of the French with the German separatists. It was intensified when Premier Poincaré carelessly offered to join with the United States in a reopening of the reparations inquiry.

WILL OF LOWELL
WOMAN FILED

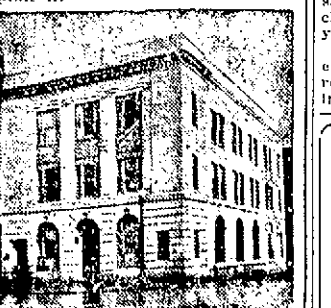

BOSTON, Nov. 16.—Margaret Montgomery of Lowell, out of an estate of $3800, bequeathed $50 to John Borillo of Lowell with the request that "he use said sum in the purchase of a suit of clothes," according to her will filed yesterday in Essex County.

The sum of $1000 was left to a nephew, George Borillo of Chicago, and the rest of the estate was left in scattering small bequests.

One of the most important textile mill projects calling for installation of new production methods to meet modern industrial requirements, has just been started on the large open area of ground immediately adjoining the plant of the Massachusetts Mohair Plush Co. in Western Ave.

A latest model, completely equipped condensation and filtration plant, long required by the company, and calling for an estimated expenditure of more than $25,000, is to be constructed at once with facilities that will in the future offer the textile industry an adequate and continuous supply of purest water, greatly needed every day in the year in the manufacturing operations at the Mohair plant. Contractor Daniel H. Walker has the construction job.

The opening of the ground between Western Avenue and the Mohair mill chain proper has required much tedious

ACTION AGAINST COAL MEN

Atty. General Daugherty so Notifies Cong. John Jacob
Rogers in Reply to Lowell Representative's Request
For Searching Inquiry of Anthracite Field Conditions

Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty in a letter received today by Congressman John Jacob Rogers indicates that the U. S. department of justice is on the warpath against the alleged conspiracy in the Pennsylvania coal fields to mislead the public by price manipulation of anthracite coal.

"The whole anthracite situation now is being given the most careful attention by the department of justice," Attorney General Daugherty asserts in his communication, which is a reply to one from Congressman Rogers calling for a searching inquiry into the existence of the conspiracy and for drastic action against the conspiracy if found to exist.

"The opinion seems to be quite prevalent that the Pennsylvania anthracite situation if thoroughly examined would reveal a conspiracy in violation of the Sherman law, or some other federal statute among the coal

LONDON, Nov. 16 (by the Associated Press).—King George, acting on the advice of his cabinet, this morning dissolved parliament in preparation for the general elections to be held Dec. 6. Parliament reassembles on Dec. 26.

The king's prorogation speech was as follows:

"My lords, and members of the house of commons:
"My government recently initiated negotiations aiming at the appointment, with the collaboration of the United States, of a commission of inquiry to determine Germany's capacity to pay reparations. Unfortunately, it has not been possible to secure the assent of the French government to these proposals which, it had been hoped, would lead to a solution of the reparations problem.

"My government, regarding with profound anxiety the continuance of the present economic conditions in Europe which depend so largely on a settlement of this question. A serious situation has developed in Germany which

He Laid Flowers on Harding Bier, and Now Goes to Join His Chief

AMBROSE HIGGINS, JR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16. The small, lisping voice of little Ambrose Higgins, Jr., age 5, who placed a wreath he bought with his own pennies at the bier of President Harding, is silenced in death.

His tiny body was crushed beneath the wheels of a lumbering truck as he dashed carefree across the street from his home in 164th street here, in New York, to a candy store.

Ambrose has joined his friend—President Harding.

While the world was mourning the death of the nation's chief executive as his body lay in state in the East room of the White House, Ambrose filtered through the strong guard of soldiers and police with his bouquet for the president.

"Twice, policeman, for ve president," he countered, holding out flowers whenever he was halted by members of the guard. It was his password.

Thus he gained entrance to the East room, where few had the opportunity to enter. Soldiers, with fixed bayonets, stood guard-as motionless as statues.

Amidst the flowers of respect sent by a sorrowing world, Ambrose placed his offering—the single and concentrated offering from the childhood of the land.

"Rest in peace" was scribbled in his own youthful scrawl on the attached card.

It was a small boy's epitaph for his dead chief.

WILL FIGHT TWO-MAN CARS

Eastern Mass. St. Railway Executives Strongly Favor
One-Man Operation

Say Change Would Mean Higher Fares and Curtailment of Service

The Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway corporation is striving for the fray.

Representatives of the transportation system are diligently preparing to combat the latest movement on the part of Greater Boston commercial organizations and various municipal and legislative powers, who have announced that comprehensive plans are now in the making for one of the liveliest campaigns for legislative enactment that would compel the Eastern corporation to return to the two-man car system.

That the Eastern corporation will stoutly defend its present position in the handling of one-man cars and fight the petitioners is an assured fact.

A formal revealing statement has just been issued to the press relative for public consumption by Fred A.
Cummings, publicity representative of the company. The statement has the indorsement of the corporation executives.

The statement says:
"All employees of this (the Eastern) company are being informed that if this company were to be compelled to operate only two-man cars, it would necessitate the immediate restoration of the universal five-cent cash fare, the abandonment of interurban lines and the discontinuance of many city lines on this system."

Publicity Man Cummings, in a further and quite extended statement covering the one-man car situation, for a, etc., says:
"As this issue may be the subject of prolonged discussion, I presume you will be interested to know that one-man car operation was started on this road in April, 1920, on the Mattapan line of the Hyde Park district, and between that date and Sept. 30, 1923, its scope was increased until, by the latter date, we have operated 55-84,812 miles with one-man cars."

"Almost coincident with the introduction of one-man cars, the public trustees put into effect in all divisions on the Eastern Massachusetts street railway reduced rate, punch-card tickets. The number of riders on this reduced rate ticket zones from 12 to certainly increased to zones up to 26 in the city of Fall River. By the use of these tickets—assuming, if one could, that there would have been the same number of riders on a 10-cent cash ticket—there has been a saving to the car riders of approximately $10,000,000 during the nearly five years of public control."

"Another point in favor of the one-man cars which is very frequently lost sight of, is that the accident reports are much improved, especially with respect to boarding and alighting accidents."

Manager Maurice E. McCormick of the local division said briefly, in an interview, that he approved the Cummings statement as correct. He declared that any campaign to return to the two-man passenger car control system on the street railway lines ought to fail, because the present one-man system has been a life-saver thus far. As Mr. Cummings intimates, discarding the present method of handling passenger traffic would result in tremendously higher costs and necessitate the closing of the discounting of numerous useful transportation lines on all divisions that today do not make an actual profit even under present methods of control and operation.

She always chooses Arlington Sausage because it is always dependable, fresh and wholesome, and always has the same fine flavor. It is made fresh daily of sweet, tender pork cut from choice corn-fed porkers, chopped—not ground—and blended with finest spices. For a tasty dish that everyone will relish serve Arlington Sausage.

FUNERALS

GALLAGHER—With solemn and impressive services the funeral of Mrs. Mary (Tobney) Gallagher, wife of Charles Gallagher and a well known resident of Centralville for many years, took place this morning at 9:15 o'clock from her home, 117 Methuen street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends, including a large number from Skaneateles, N. Y., Boston and Lawrence. Persons prominent in the city's official life were among those who paid their final respects.

The long cortege, headed by two automobiles filled with flowers, proceeded to St. Michael's church, where at 10 o'clock a solemn high funeral mass was celebrated by Rev. James P. Lynch, assisted by Rev. Thomas J. Hengney as deacon and Rev. John J. Shaw, the pastor, as sub-deacon. The choir under the direction of Miss Margaret Griffin sang the Gregorian chant. The soloists were Miss Mary Maguire and Miss Mary Kelly. The offertories were numerous and beautiful and there were many beautiful bouquets.

The flowers were John E. Gallagher, Charles L. Gallagher, James A. Gallagher and Raymond T. Gallagher, all sons of the deceased, and James O'Hara and Robert Webster. The ushers at the house and church were Charles E. Gallagher, Joseph Boulton and Thomas Hurley.

Burial took place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery where Rev. Fr. Lynch read the committal prayers. The arrangements were in charge of Funeral Directors James W. McKenna Sons.

McPHELMY—The funeral of John McPhelimy took place this morning at 9 o'clock from his late home, 12 Union street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The funeral cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's church where at 9 o'clock a funeral mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Francis L. Shea. The choir sang the Gregorian chant, the soloists being Miss Mary Maguire and Miss Mary Kelly. The offertories were Messrs. Frank McGrath, John Roche, Martin Conley, Henry O'Brien, Fred Donley and Thomas McEneaney. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Shea. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

WILSON—The funeral of Catherine Wilson took place yesterday afternoon from the home of Undertakers Charles H. Molloy's Sons. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery where committal prayers were read by Rev. Joseph A. Curtin of St. Patrick's church.

DACEY—The funeral of Mrs. Alice

T. Dacey took place this morning at 9 o'clock from her late home, 176 Andover street. The funeral cortege headed by a large automobile filled with flowers, moved to the Immaculate Conception church where at 10 o'clock, a solemn high funeral mass was celebrated by Rev. Owen McQuaid, O.M.I., with Rev. John Duffy, O.M.I., as deacon and Rev. Amos Robbins, O.M.I., as sub-deacon. Rev. William Dacey of Boston, was the master of ceremonies. Seated in the sanctuary were Rev. J. Curtin, Rev. J. Cunningham of Billerica and Rev. P. J. Egan, O.M.I. The choir, under the direction of Mr. James S. King, sang Schmitt's mass. The soloists were Miss Flossie McManus, D. S. O'Brien and James E. King. Among the prominent persons present were Honorable John J. Donovan and Assistant Secretary Paul Landon, City Auditor Daniel Martin, Hugh J. Molloy, Edward P. Saunders, Representatives Charles Slowey and Thomas J. Corbett, James E. Donnelly, Honorable John E. Drury and Honorable Perry D. Thompson. The bearers were Messrs. William Leary, Ray Elms, William Dacey, Harry Martin, Francis E. Delmore and Harry Martin. The burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, where Rev. Owen McQuaid, O.M.I., assisted by Rev. William Dacey of Boston and Rev. J. Cunningham of Billerica, conducted the burial services. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Thomas A. Delmore, under the direction of Undertakers Charles H. Molloy's Sons.

LUSSIER—The funeral of Wilfred E. Lussier took place this morning at 9 o'clock from his home, 124 Germain street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends from this city and from out-of-town. A solemn high funeral mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock at St. Jeanne d'Arc church by Rev. Aurelien Morel, O.M.I., of Hudson, N. H., as deacon and by Rev. Charles Denicot, O.M.I., O.D., as sub-deacon. An augmented choir, under the direction of Arthur H. Glavin, rendered the Gregorian chant. The soloists of the mass were sustained by Dr. G. E. Carisse, Napoleon Milot, Arthur J. Leveille and Alfred Ducharme. At the offertory, Mrs. Antoinette Houdreau sang Leybach's "Pie Jesu." At the elevation "O Meritum Passionis" was sung by Arthur H. Glavin, at the Communion, Arthur J. Leveille rendered "Miserere mei." At the end of the mass the choir sang "De Profundis" and as the body was borne from the church, Pauline's "Crucifix" was sung by Mrs. Houdreau and Miss Stella Lefebvre. The funeral was read by Rev. Fr. Shea. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

WILSON—The funeral of Catherine Wilson took place yesterday afternoon from the home of Undertakers Charles H. Molloy's Sons. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery where committal prayers were read by Rev. Joseph A. Curtin of St. Patrick's church.

DACEY—The funeral of Mrs. Alice

The C.M.A.C. was represented by the following delegation: Joseph P. Tremblay and Raoul Landry. Attending the mass were several classes of St. Jeanne d'Arc school. There were many floral and spiritual offerings. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Leon Lamotte, O.M.I. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers Amodee Archambault and Sons.

DEATHS

HIGGINS—Mrs. Della Higgins, formerly of Chelmsford Centre, died this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Griffin, 36 Chambers street. She leaves to mourn her loss, besides her husband, David Higgins, two daughters, Mrs. Edward Griffin and Mrs. James Morris; one son, John Higgins; two sisters, Miss Margaret Higgins and Miss Julia Dolan; four grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

HALSTEAD—John R. Halstead, a former resident of this city, passed away Thursday at his home, Highland park, New Brunswick, N. J., aged 69 years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Fannie A. Halstead of New Brunswick; one brother, Lieutenant James W. Halstead of the Lowell fire department; three sisters, Miss Martha J. Halstead of Hartford, Conn., Mrs. Ella Clark and Miss Emma Halstead of Everett, Mass. His body will be brought to Lowell for burial in charge of Undertaker William H. Saunders. Funeral notice later.

MANNING—John Manning, for the past 22 years a resident of Lowell and a devout attendant of St. Patrick's church, died this morning at his home, 326 Fletcher street. He leaves a wife, Margaret (Sullivan) Manning; four sons, Joseph, John, Cornelius and James Manning; three daughters, Misses Ella Mary and Margaret Manning; one brother, Thomas Manning of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Catherine Hour and Miss Josephine Manning, both of Worcester.

STOCKS—Mrs. Ella M. Stocks, widow of the late Harry Stocks, for many years circulation manager of the Courier-Citizen Newspaper Co., died yesterday at the age of 55 years. Mrs. Stocks is survived by one son, Carl W. Stocks of Brooklyn, and by two daughters, Mrs. Violet H. Stocks, Proctor, and Miss Esther H. Stocks; one grandson, Richard Proctor, all of Lowell; one brother, Raymond L. Ramsdell of New York and a sister, Mrs. Arvilla H. Cheyne of Cambridge. She was a member of the First Baptist church.

HOPKINS—Charles P. Hopkins, who was established in business at 815 Bridge street for a period of about 12 years, died suddenly yesterday morning at the home of Mrs. Ella A. Jacobs, 175 Westford street, aged 74 years, 7 months and 7 days. He leaves one sister, Mrs. O. D. Parker of Derby, Vt. The body was removed to the rooms of Undertaker Hiram C. Brown, 14 Loring street.

SARGENT—Edward E. Sargent, a veteran employee of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., in this city, and a prominent member of the First Union Congregational church of which he was a deacon for the past 23 years, died last night at his home, 39 Norcross street, aged 56 years. Mr. Sargent had been in the employ of the local branch of the telephone company for about 14 years and in that time had not only seen the rapid growth of the local telephone business, but also of the city. He was a member of Ancient York lodge, A.F. and A.M. He leaves his wife, Ella M. Sargent; one daughter, Mrs. Ella M. Bennett; two grandchildren, Raymond E. and Norman C. Bennett and three brothers and two sisters.

OUELLETTE—Mrs. Josephine (Charette) Ouellette, widow of Alexis Ouellette, a resident of this city for the past 15 years, died early this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dorinda Barras, 2 Mapleview avenue, aged 70 years. She is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Caroline Broder and Mrs. Eveline Guillette of Dracut, Mrs. Anna Caravan, Mrs. Marie L. Drouin and Mrs. Dorinda Barras of this city, and three sons, William of Springfield, Joseph of Dracut and Alexis Ouellette of this city. Deceased was an attendant of St. Louis church and was a member of St. Anne's sodality.

MANNING—A month's mind high mass will be celebrated Saturday morning, Nov. 17, at 8 o'clock at St. Michael's church for the repose of the soul of Patrick P. V. McCarthy.

MC CARTHY—In memory of Private Duncan Kelley, who died Nov. 15, 1915. For while on earth he was sincere his heart was truly kind. His memory will be ever dear. To those he left behind.

SAMUEL AND MARY KELLEY and Sisters.

CARD OF THANKS
We, the undersigned, wish to thank our many neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy shown in our recent bereavement in the death of our beloved daughter and sister. We also wish to thank those who sent flowers and cards. Their kindness will ever be remembered by us.

MRS. KATHARINE BERRY, EILEEN BERRY, FRANCES BERRY, THOMAS BERRY, JR.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Jesse H. Codding, who died Nov. 16, 1922. One precious to our hearts has gone. The voice we loved is stilled. The place made vacant in our home, can never more be filled. Our Father in His wisdom called. The boon His love had given. And though on earth the body lies, The soul is safe in heaven.

BY HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN, ETHEL CHESTER AND FRED.

NAVY CLUB MEETING

The Lowell Navy club will meet this evening at 7:30 in the annex of the high school to consider the question of turning out to greet Admiral Benson, on the occasion of his visit to this city to address the League of Catholic Women, and also the matter of a smelter in the near future. All members are requested to be present.

ZOO ANIMALS GO TO WINTER QUARTERS

All of the animals at the Fort Hill park zoo, with the exception of the bears and deer, were moved to their winter quarters in the department stables on Loring street this morning. With the exception of the Himalayan goat, all went peacefully. The goat, however, is inclined to be ugly and stubborn. From 6 o'clock this morning until 9:30 the goat was chased around its enclosure and even after being caught, continued to struggle against being removed from the park. What the men had to say about the goat is unkind, but one man stated decidedly that he hoped it would be dead or tamed before another winter came along.

Since the outbreak of the World war there have been 32 political assassinations.

RED SCHOOLHOUSE

DOWN, BUT NOT OUT

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 16.—The "Little red schoolhouse" may be "down" but it is not "out." Eight residents of the eighth school district of Winchester, near Winsted, this state, have filed a certificate with the state secretary here as "The Little Red Schoolhouse association of Winchester, Inc." The purpose of the incorporation as stated is "to preserve and maintain the eighth district school of Winchester as a permanent memorial."

PAPERS SERVED ON CITY FATHERS

Summonses were served today on Mayor John J. Donovan and members of the city council demanding their presence in the supreme court on Dec. 1 to answer a writ of certiorari in the case of Patrick Ryan and Patrick Donohue vs. John J. Donovan, mayor of Lowell, et al. This case has to do with the city council's closing of Worcester street and the plaintiff's demands that a rehearing on this matter be given.

To the Voters of Ward 4

I most sincerely thank the voters for the splendid endorsement given me at the primaries and would ask their support at the election on December 4. I will endeavor now as in the past to perform the duties devolving upon me as Councillor from Ward 4.

FREDERICK A. SADLER.

MADMAN WHO SLEW FOUR FLEES

Leonard Portano Takes to Woods at Kelliher, Minn., With Posse in Pursuit

Murdered Parents of Sweetheart, His Rival and Deputy Sheriff

KELLIHER, Minn., Nov. 16.—A madman, slayer of four, is fleeing through the north woods before a posse.

Leonard Portano, 35, yesterday slew Mr. and Mrs. John Sanders, of whose 15-year-old daughter, Myrtle, he was enamored; Oscar Timmy, 20, farmer, and author of the girl, and J. A. Wilson, marshal of this village and deputy sheriff, who sought to arrest him.

Before fleeing the murderer went to a timber cutting plant he operated and left a signed confession with a list of the dead.

Early yesterday Timmy and Portano engaged in an altercation over Myrtle, during which Portano shot Timmy through the leg. Timmy came eight miles from the farm where the shooting occurred to this village, had his wounds dressed, and reported the case to Marshal Wilson.

While Timmy was gone, Portano went to the Sanders home and shot dead the mother of his sweetheart. Upon leaving the Sanders home, he met Mr. Sanders, took him to a nearby cabin, bound him to a bedpost, and shot him dead.

Near this village, Portano met Marshal Wilson, who had left to arrest him for shooting Timmy, and shot the officer dead. Next he encountered Timmy, who was going to the village to learn what had been done towards arresting Portano for wounding him, and again Portano's pistol fired a fatal bullet, Timmy falling dead in the highway.

Although Myrtle Sanders is missing, it is stated she was not harmed or kidnapped by the desperado. It is believed she is at the home of friends.

The killer had been avoided by local people because of his hasty temper. He recently was before the grand jury as a result of a controversy with his brother, his only known relative. The grand jury returned no indictment, however, and the nature of the case was not disclosed.

IMPERSONATION OF DRY AGENT CHARGE

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 15.—William J. Scott, former reserve police officer, was arrested early today on a federal warrant charging him with impersonating a federal prohibition agent. It is alleged that he visited a local storekeeper and attempted to extort money after representing himself as a prohibition officer. The money was refused and J. H. Bell, the storekeeper, reported the incident.

DELVE FURTHER INTO RECORD OF WALTON

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.) The senate court of impeachment, delved further today into the pardon and parole record of Gov. J. C. Walton in hearing the charge that the executive abused his clemency powers to provide lucrative fees for his political supporters and friends.

The board of prosecution announced it would present additional evidence to show that attorneys in many instances collected thousands of dollars for obtaining clemency for their clients. Wholesale pardons and paroles were issued, it is charged, in some cases over the protests of county officials and numerous other individuals and even before the defendant had been convicted.

PROTECTIVE SMASHES INTO TOURING CAR

While answering an alarm of fire early last night apparatus of Protective Company No. 1 collided in Merrimack street with an automobile registered in the name of James H. O'Neill of 678 Wilder street.

No one was seriously injured. The fire apparatus was sent to the Sawyer carriage shop for repairs while the touring car was badly wrecked and required towing from the scene of the accident.

SWISS CITIZENS LEAVE GERMANY

That Hang-on Cough Must Go

Home Made Cough Mixture Best of All for the Cough That Sticks

Make It Yourself In Two Minutes

The coughing season is on and every home should have a supply of the best cough remedy to be had, and as you can make this supremely excellent cough mixture yourself why pay high prices for the common kind.

Get from any druggist one ounce of Parment (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one-half pint—that's all there is to it.

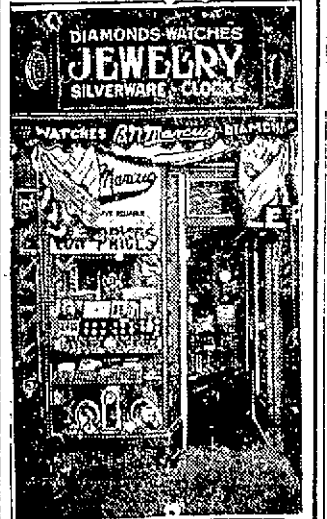

Then when any member of the family starts coughing or catches cold in chest or head, or has acute catarrh, you are prepared as you should be.

And the children love to take it. With speed almost beyond belief this home made cough mixture stops the toughest hang-on cough, and all because in it there is a substance (too costly for ordinary cough syrups) that immediately covers the membrane like a soothing, healing poltice, and blessed relief comes at once.

And you should also bear in mind that any remedy that overcomes catarrh, partially or wholly, is bound to be of benefit to those who are troubled with head noises and catarrhal deafness. Get Parment and get better.—Adv.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief For Acid Indigestion

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to retain food are in probability nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion. Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or overaction of acid.

To stop or prevent this soiling of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of Bismuth Magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antacid, such as Bismuth Magnesia which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bismuth Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—Adv.

An immense amount of steel rods is to be used in the foundation work of cement. These were being placed in position this morning. About 25 workmen are now engaged on the construction job, and today seven carpenters and 10 extra laborers were added to the force of huckies working on the new filtration plant on all four sides. Foreman Ed Appleton, not a heavy-weight in size or tonnage, but one of the smartest labor crew leaders in the Lowell construction world and Mr. Walker's right hand man on this new filtration plant creation, declares that if the weather holds good from now on, the entire plant will be completed and ready for use by Dec. 1.

The system to be installed in the new filtration plant is one never before attempted in Lowell and is guaranteed to give the mill workers water of purest quality at all times winter and summer, that has long been desired at the plant. Water comes from the canal way just beyond the industrial plant, and while the usual filters have always taken care of the water used in the cleaning and dyeing processes in vogue at the mohair factory, there has been occasional trouble during the late winter and spring runs, with water from the muddy, filled canals being too sandy and dirty to "run clear" at important factory operating periods.

The decision to install a complete home plant for condensing and filtering the canal waters, was made some months ago, ground being shaken out and plans called for. The blue prints, made by Contractor Walker show a new water-condensing system and a series of continuous filter systems before reaching the final outlets that no other manufacturing concern in the New England can equal at the present time, according to filtration experts who are in town this week to watch the beginning of the Mohair job.

BANKRUPTCY ACTION
AGAINST GOV. McCRAE

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 16.—Added impetus was given the bankruptcy proceedings against Gov. McCrae in federal court here as the result of an estimate by the creditors' committee in charge of the executive's property made public last night, which placed his equities in all the assets at only $8727.46. The executive in turning his assets over to the committee for administration for the benefit of his creditors, had expressed the opinion that after all creditors whose claims aggregate about $2,000,000 were paid off, he would still have a considerable part of his fortune left. Action by the creditors, as the result of the committee's valuation which was made after an investigation of the properties, probably will avail the outcome of the bankruptcy proceedings, it was said last night. Harry C. Sheridan, federal court rece in the bankruptcy proceedings, said the estimate of the governor's equity in his property would not affect his conduct in the case. He added, however, that establishment of the executive's real equity in his property might materially affect the outcome of the hearing.

NO SMOKING OR BARE KNEES AT VASSAR

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Vassar girls do not smoke and knees are only bare when they play hockey, according to Dr. Henry Noble McCracken, president of the college, here attending the annual convention of Vassar alumnae. The convention opened today with several hundred former students at the girls' school in attendance. Educational and social problems growing out of the attempt to extend education to the modern college girl are to receive chief attention of the alumni, here from all parts of the country.

Corsets Prove That Straight Lines Are the Best

The straight-line is the shortest distance to smartness, says the mode, —and these corsets echo the statement. The fitting foundation for the Autumn suit or frocks—long of line and straight over the hips and back. In any fabric you desire—contil, brocade, and elastic—wrap-around, clasp-around, front or back laced, laced.

Carefully designed and carried out—and in pastel tints and white.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatrical Press Agents

THE STRAND

Blanche Sweet, in the picture "The King," now playing at the Strand, the role of the King's daughter, and it offers her one of the greatest opportunities. You will admire and applaud her work, as well as the efforts of the others of an all-star cast. The picture and story is a remarkable achievement in screen story.

The Charlie Chaplin classic, "The Vagabond," is an added feature that every one will surely enjoy, while the weekly and musical numbers always add to the worth of the program. Don't miss this big bill. Laura La Plante in "Crooked Alley," a Boston Blackie story is the second feature.

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Get your tickets in good season for the wonderfully interesting and diversified program of entertainment at the H. F. Keith theatre, today, or tomorrow.

George McKay and Otis Arline, with their bag full of entertainment tricks, hold up the top honors of the bill, with smiling bill Robinson in a mighty close second position. The latter is one of the sweetest tappers on the boards today, and his comedy isn't much eaten. Characterization creeps into the turn of Batler & Parker, which also distinguishes this bill, while the Four Juggling Ninons are promoters of the twilling hoops. They are also exceptional diabolists. Others on the bill are Dorothy Wahl, singer, and Korr & Ensign, operators of the carnival of fun. "The Midnight Alarm" is the week's big picture feature.

RIALTO THEATRE

"Main Street" opened yesterday at the Rialto theatre. It is a decided success with a punch, the picture of the year, one could say without any exaggeration. Whether it was the masterly acting of Florence Vidor and Monte Blue or the exceptional direction of Harry Beaumont, or the sheer strength of Sinclair Lewis' story, is hard to say. But what can be said is that these elements all combine into the making of a picture that one will have to go far to equal. "Main Street" is the story of Carol Kennicott and her brave but pathetic efforts to make Gopher Prairie a better place to live in. The inhabitants do not sympathize with her, even her husband, Doctor Kennicott, being too engrossed in his medical practice to further his wife's plans. In despair, she finds her only ally in a young idealist. Two things happen; tongues begin wagging maliciously, and Erik finds himself so hopelessly in love with Carol that he wants her to elope. These situations bring on the dramatic climax to the picture. In the supporting cast you will find Noah Berry, Louise Fazenda, Harry Myers, Robert Gordon and Otis Harlan.

Leo Maloney in "Here's Your Man," a splendid western story, a good Monty Banks comedy, entitled "Rent Day," and a Pathe News are also included in the program.

THE JEWEL THEATRE

Reginald Denny has done one fine piece of work this season in "The Abnormal Brute." This vehicle will head the program at the Jewel today and tomorrow.

row. It's the story of a prize fighter who falls in love with a son of society, to be later thrown over—but love conquers at the end and everything ends happily. Ethel Clayton in "The Man Hunt" will star in the counter-attraction, a modern story of men hunting as practiced by the financially embarrassed aristocracy. Chester Conklin and Mack Swain will also be shown in a new comedy, and an altogether delightful entertainment has been arranged. An amateur show will be given tonight.

THE ROYAL THEATRE

A new Buck Jones' vehicle, "Skid Proof," is the headliner at the Royal theatre for Friday and Saturday. Charles proves to be the hero per excellence in this new drama, smashing his way through a series of thrilling adventures. In "Big Stakes," the counter attraction, Elmer Fair does exceedingly fine work, and she is ably seconded by a notable cast of screen favorites. The sixth episode of "The Street Trail," with strong man Bill Durand and other shorter acts will round out a fine entertainment.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Gay Broadway in its gayest hours is realistically pictured in "The Gold Diggers," which will close its engagement at the Merrimack Square theatre Saturday evening. The stage and its chorus girls, fluffy dresses and costumes, vivid makeup and the hustle and bustle of dressing room combine to make the production one of the most entertaining shown in Lowell in months.

The picture follows closely the stage play of the same name and stars Hope Hampton, a pretty and capable star. Throughout the production the eye is constantly delighted by luxurious settings, with parties in all their splendor and the soft atmosphere of Spanish dancing.

The second feature is "The Exiles," starring John Gilbert in a screen interpretation of Richard Harding Davis' notable story.

The management announces "Woman Proof," starring popular Thomas Meighan in one of the most successful productions of his career, for Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the coming week.

PUBLIC SERVICE BOARD
IN ROUTINE SESSION

A routine meeting of the board of public service was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in city hall with all members of the board present.

Following a short discussion concerning the city's right to enter certain property formerly owned by the Fevay Foundry Co. and now the property of the Saco-Lowell in School street, for the purpose of cleaning a sewer, Chairman Dennis J. Murphy moved and the board affirmed his motion that the work be begun at once and that the legal question be settled later if necessary. This matter was referred to the city solicitor at a previous meeting.

A letter was read from Councilor Arthur B. Chaswick concerning the location of catch basins on Highland avenue and repairs in Stevens street. This matter was referred to the city engineer.

A letter from Postmaster Xavier A. Deltile requesting repairs to the sidewalk and edgework in front of the postoffice building was referred to the city engineer and the city solicitor. As the sidewalk was constructed by the federal government and never accepted by the city, there is some doubt as to whether this work should be done by the city.

A recommendation from Michael H. Harrington, of the ash and waste department, concerning the size of ash carts to be purchased was filed.

On recommendation of the foreman of the city stables, it was voted that a horse that is now unable to work be shot.

The meeting adjourned at 4:50 o'clock until next Thursday.

WORLD'S LARGEST CABLE
PARIS, Nov. 16.—The world's largest cable, connecting France with the United States, was to have been opened yesterday, but although the American end is finished, the recent weather has prevented the cable ship from working on this side of the Atlantic. Two or three more days will be required to complete the line.

HEIRESS FINDS LOVE IN SMALL TOWN FLAT

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Delora Angell Norris, heiress to the $35,000,000 John W. Gates estate, who married "Les" Norris, a childhood playmate, has found love in a small town apartment preferable to life on her Lake Forest estate and that bequest with its 22 room house filled with rugs, tapestries, antiques and a collection of 45 paintings.

Is offered for sale. Many articles of furniture already have been sold. Last spring, Miss Angell announced her engagement to Lester Norris, a boy from her home town, St. Charles, where they both grew up. "Les" was a free lance artist, and the son of the local undertaker.

Friends expected the couple after marriage in Los Angeles, would live in Mrs. Norris' Lake Forest home, but instead a small apartment in St. Charles was rented and the poor artist's bride began housekeeping, doing her own cooking and sewing and having a lot of fun doing it.

Her friends say she has lived up to her promise to be a domestic housewife.

TO CALL OFF STRIKE
AT VERA CRUZ

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 16.—The strike at Vera Cruz, which has caused a serious slump at that port to the great inconvenience of business in central Mexico, will probably be called off next Monday when a start will be made at moving the large quantities of freight now on the wharves at Vera Cruz and unloading the 18 steamers in the harbor.

Maritime workers and railwaymen's organizations whose dispute led to the slump, have reached an agreement on the main points at issue, it is reported.

SHE'S LITTLE—BUT REARED A MIGHTY FAMILY
EASTHAM, Nov. 16.—She's little and yellow and only a hen. But there are four big geese on the farm of Edgar E. Rich here who think the world of her. She brought them up from the eggs, and puzzling infants they were, too. They grew so fast she couldn't quite figure it out. And she tried so hard to keep them from going in the water—but they just would. It's a familiar sight in these parts to see the four geese walking about with their adopted mother, quacking loudly in apparent answer to her clucks. They're a devoted family.

ROWING TANK IN CHARLES
CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 16.—As a part of its program for building up a winning crew, Harvard will launch a rowing tank in the Charles river shortly after Thanksgiving day, in which rowing practice will be continued as late as possible this season. The tank, or float, 51 feet long and five and one-half feet wide, will accommodate 16 oarsmen, 8 on the starboard and 8 on the port side. There will be coxswains for each. From a platform between two rows, the work of the men will be directed by the coach.

Advertisers who use The Sun consistently get greater returns on the money invested than through any other Lowell newspaper. There's a reason. The Sun goes into more homes in Lowell and suburbs than any other Lowell paper and ninety per cent of Sun readers read no other Lowell newspaper.

SELF-RELIANT HOME DOCTORS
is what women are called who all over this broad land make their annual collections of roots and herbs, and rely upon recipes which our pioneer mothers found dependable for different family ailments. In one of these recipes, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had its origin and so successful has it proved that there is hardly a city, town or hamlet in America where some woman who has been restored to health by its use does not reside.—Adv.

Well War Veteran Man Recovers Quickly

Suffering From Stomach, Liver and Kidneys Conquered
by Drego

Mr. Alvin W. Stockwell of Brown's block who has lived in Lowell for more than fifty years, who is one of the few veterans of the Civil war still living, says:
"For the past ten years I have been crippled by pains and aches. Food that I ate laid in my stomach like lead. Indigestion doubled me up with cramps. Gas bloated my stomach making me belch. Acid risings burned up my insides and made me gasp for breath. I went through this ordeal after every meal that I ate.
I felt tired and worn out. I thought I was about at the end of my string.

My kidneys bothered me so that I couldn't get a good night's sleep. My sluggish liver clogged up my system, sapping its strength.
For ten years I endured this suffering when Drego came to my rescue. This marvelous remedy has brought me back to life, giving me health and strength. I want everyone who is suffering as I have suffered to take advantage of the wonderful restorative powers of this great remedy."

Drego is being specially introduced by Green's Drug Store and sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

SECOND DAY OF ST. ANNE'S FAIR

The opening day of the fair at St. Anne's parish house yesterday was attended by a large crowd, who came to enjoy the luncheon, tea and bridge and the dance in the evening. Today will be another big day, with a supper in the evening, followed by another dance. The committee responsible for the success of the luncheon yesterday noon was composed of the following members of the parish: Mrs. A. J. Murkland, chairman; Mrs. John McElroy, Miss Angeline Cushing, Mrs. Mary E. Garrity, Mrs. Moses Stanley, Mrs. W. W. Dennett, Mrs. Hugh Johnson, Mrs. Thomas Wardell, Miss Irene Wardell, Mrs. Harry Clifton, Mrs. George Campbell, Mrs. E. McManara, Miss Susan Carlston, Mrs. F. F. Haywood, Mrs. J. H. J. Goff, Mrs. Stanley Cryder, Mrs. Eugene Valiant, Mrs. M. C. Hall and Mrs. A. D. Mack.

SACRED HEART REUNION TO RUN THREE DAYS

One of the biggest affairs yet attempted by the parishioners of the Sacred Heart will be the parish reunion of three days' duration, which will be held in the school hall on Nov. 21, 22 and 23.

Several committees have been working on the details for the event for many weeks. Every society in the parish, the children of Mary, Holy Angels, Holy Rosary and Holy Name, are represented by committees under the general direction of John P. Duggan. The coming affair will mark the first large scale function since Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., became pastor of the church, and every effort will be extended to make it a memorable one.

REV. DENIS A. SULLIVAN, O.M.I.,
Pastor

LOCAL ELKS TO HONOR HENRY SULLIVAN

Members of Lowell lodge of Elks will place a red circle around the date "January 10" on their 1924 calendars for that will be Henry Sullivan night. Lowell members of the antlered herd will on that occasion pay fitting tribute to their illustrious brother who bears the double distinction of being the first American to swim the tortuous English channel and the undisputed champion endurance swimmer of the world.

The committee in charge of the observance is still working on plans that are in the tentative stage. Nothing will be left unturned to make the night one worthy to be emblazoned in the annals of Elksdom. A true Elks time is promised and when the word is passed that the committee has been diligently at work on arrangements ever since the first word of Henry's triumph was received here it becomes evident that the occasion will be both a portentous and momentous one.

NEGLECTED TRIMMING

Marabout and ostrich vie with each other for honors as trimmings on negligees of velvet and brocade.

FOR GAY OCCASIONS

A most festive frock of cerise velvet is covered with embroidery in pearl and crystal beads on one side.

SEE THE POINT

The Sun has by far the largest circulation of any Lowell paper. Ninety per cent of Sun readers do not read any other Lowell newspaper. See the point, Mr. Advertiser?

College women live longer than other women, according to a study made by Myra M. Hulst of the American Red Cross.

GREAT BRITAIN FACES FIERCEST POLITICAL FIGHT IN YEARS

Opposition Parties Feel They Have Deep Grievance
Against Prime Minister for "Playing a Confidence Trick Upon the Public"—Women Active in Fight

LONDON, Nov. 16.—It is predicted that the coming election will be one of the fiercest political fights seen in Great Britain in modern times. The opposition parties feel they have a deep grievance against the prime minister for "playing a confidence trick upon the public" in concealing his intentions and forcing an unnecessary election. Mr. Baldwin's supporters resent this and warmly defend his "honesty of purpose." Thus a good deal of temper has been injected into the contest at the outset. The decision of the laborites to adhere to a capital levy as the leading feature of their campaign, cannot but be welcome to the other parties as in their view this weakens labor's chances while giving them a valuable argument. Labor, it is also predicted, will suffer from its refusal—now said to be final—to make any arrangement with the liberals with a view to avoiding split votes.

Mr. Lloyd George's libel in the house of commons yesterday that the ministers were going to the country with tin cans tied to their tails to ask a blank check—an allusion to the proposed preference duty on canned salmon—has taken the fancy of the liberal press and will be heard on many platforms.

The failure of the plans to bring Justice Chamberlain and Lord Birkenhead into the government ranks is deplored by those conservatives who think the loss of these statesmen will prove a great injury to the party's cause and is frequently referred to as a split in the very ranks. Women are to take a very large part in the fight as organizers and campaigners, and all parties are likely to receive a large share of their help. Labor in particular, contends that women will win the election, Dr. Phillips asserting that the poll will be a battle of the mothers and housewives against the rise in prices which a tariff would bring.

MATRIMONIAL

MacIntyre—Ross
Mr. Archie MacIntyre and Miss Esther Louise Ross were married at the parsonage of the Westminster U. P. church Wednesday evening by the pastor, Rev. J. F. Speck. The couple were attended by Miss Florence Ross as bridesmaid and Mr. Guy Hied as best man. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Lundberg street. Mr. and Mrs. MacIntyre left during the evening on an extended wedding trip and after their return will reside at 8 Suttle avenue.

LEAGUE AND CHURCH

Two Great Instruments of Peace, Says Rev. Thos.
Nightingale

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—The two great instruments for peace are the League of Nations and the church, the Rev. Thomas Nightingale, secretary of the National Free Church Council of Great Britain, said yesterday in an address before the American Council of the World Alliance for International Friendship through the Churches.

"The two foundation stones of the nation are industry and morality," said

Beecham's

the speaker. "War smites both. It is anti-Christian. There is a more excellent way—the way of mutual understanding and good will. If two neighbors should dwell together in peace, two nations should dwell together in peace. We have seen what organized butchery could do; let us now try organized brotherhood. That alone can melt mutual hatred into mutual love. International security is not to be found in any other way. Peace is not going to be had by touching a button or waving some magic wand. It can only come by changing the ideals of nations from ideals that are warlike to ideals industrial, economic, moral and spiritual."

"My Christianity tells me two things: first of all, that life is a precious thing—all life, and if that is so, then I must seek man's good and never his ill. There are two great instruments to effect a warless world. '1—There is the political instrument of the League of Nations. We Britishers are committed to that. I do not think at this time of day you can set up another. It holds the field. It has shown its efficiency. It has settled several individual disputes. It has prevented fighting and in one case possible invasion. It has dealt also with certain humanitarian objects. It is trying to contribute to the improvement of labor conditions. The alternative to the league is the old method of diplomacy, which did not avoid war. It is better to stumble on a right road than to pursue a wrong road and get lost. But the league needs to be clothed with ampler powers and greater authority."

"2—And this is where the second instrument is needed, viz, the force of the Christian churches. It must have the moral backing of the people. The covenant of the league needs and must have the combined will of the nations. Fifty-two nations are committed to it. The tragedy is that America is still undecided as to how she can best co-operate in this great enterprise. Europe is waiting hopefully for her aid and will not wait in vain."

LOWELL BOYS ON TRIP THROUGH DIXIELAND

Flitting gaily through Dixieland, Ralph Palmer of the Cross Awning & Sign Co., accompanied by a close companion, Paul J. Halstead, an employee of the Lowell Electric Light corporation, find time while stopping at numerous points en route to the sunny south to send postal cards back home to Lowell friends.

One informing news item was that the highways down south are getting smoother and smoother right along and at no point the Lowell travelers encountered any roads so raw "as the first one we hit when we left Lowell for Worcester and Springfield via West Chelmsford." The boys intended undoubtedly to convey a deep meaning in that reference to a certain highway winding away from the outskirts of old Lowell.

The travelers are bound for Miami, Fla., with way stops at Panama, S. C., and Savannah, Ga. Halstead is understood to be prepared to soon join the great Stone & Webster public corporation interests, with good opportunities for future work in the south.

PELHAM FIGHTS TO RETAIN CAR SERVICE

Hudson, N. H., town hall was crowded with citizens of the village and surrounding rural communities, Tuesday, when the New Hampshire public service commission conducted a hearing on the proposed abandonment of service by the Massachusetts Northeastern Street Railway Co. on all of its lines west of Point A station in the town of Salem. Many Pelham residents were present because the move on the part of the corporation to discontinue the street railway service described, would cut Pelham off from street railway communication with outside communities.

The corporation heads claim they had no surplus money to spend for road repairs. The cost would be more than $30,000, it was stated. Representatives of Hudson and Pelham schools declared that the company ought to raise fares enough to cover the additional expense. It was believed that citizens would be glad to pay a little more to have the transportation service continued.

operators or between the coal operators on the one hand and the coal miners on the other, or both." Congressman Rogers declared in his inquiry to the attorney general.

"There is, I think, a general feeling that the federal government has been, or at least has seemed, impotent in this very important matter. Even if the basis for an indictment is not made out by the investigation I believe that the investigation itself would have a salutary effect."

Following is Attorney General Daugherty's reply:

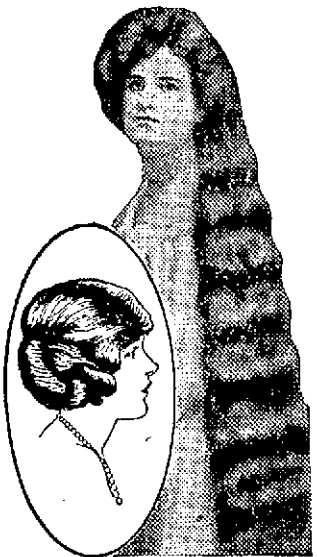

"Your favor of the 5th instant in reference to the anthracite situation in Pennsylvania has been received. I beg to advise you that certain features of this industry have been carefully investigated and proper legal action is now being prepared and will be taken very soon.

"The matter of a general conspiracy among the coal operators has been under investigation for many years and an equity suit which was brought alleging such a monopoly was unsuccessful (United States vs. Reading Co., 226 U. S. 824) Since then the government had been successful in its efforts to divorce certain carriers from their anthracite holdings (United States vs. Delaware, Lackawanna & Western R.R., 238 U. S. 316; United States vs. Reading Company, 255 U. S. 26; United States vs. Lehigh Valley R. R. Co., 254 U. S. 255). The whole anthracite situation now is being given the most careful attention by the department of justice, and we would be glad to receive any information which may come to your attention tending to establish a violation of the federal laws." Commenting on the situation today, Congressman Rogers said, "Governor Pinchot, according to yesterday's newspapers, has invited 29 governors of anthracite-consuming states to a conference to consider a program of federal legislation designed to reduce fuel prices. Governor Pinchot would do well to put his own house in order. One of the elements in the high cost of anthracite is the Pennsylvania percentage tax upon every ton of anthracite which is mined in the state. If Governor Pinchot sincerely wanted to scale down the prices of anthracite to their lowest level he would advocate the repeal of the law imposing this tax. This he has not done. And now he says that a conference of governors should be called to consider congressional legislation. This is all very well, although personally, as a representative in congress, I shall prefer to follow the recommendations of President Coolidge and of the U. S. coal commission rather than those of Governor Pinchot, chief executive of the state having the anthracite monopoly. As a matter of fact, it is not at all clear to me that a great deal

EDUCATION WEEK

Everybody is, or should be, interested in education and in all the institutions provided for the education of the masses. Accordingly it is expected that Education Week, November 18-24, will be observed with the serious purpose of improving our schools, adding the teachers and encouraging parents to give their children the best opportunities possible for obtaining an education that will properly equip them for the battle of life.

The Bureau of Education at Washington will co-operate in the observance of Education Week with the American Legion and the National Education Association. This is the fourth consecutive year in which a week has been set apart for the purpose of emphasizing the importance of improving the educational facilities throughout the nation. Last year's observance exceeded that of previous years in the scope of the observance and the obvious advantages resulting therefrom. Heretofore, the observance was held early in December but at the suggestion of the late President Harding the time was changed to November in order not to interfere with the preparation for Christmas.

As was the case last year, each day in the week will be set aside for the purpose of stressing some particular phase of education which is national in significance. It is proposed to observe on the various days of the week different subjects as follows: Sunday, "For God and Country"; Monday, "The American Constitution"; Tuesday, "Patriotism"; Wednesday, "School and Teacher"; Thursday, "Literature"; Friday, "The Community"; Saturday, "Physical Education". Of course these suggested topics do not preclude the discussion of any other phase of education that may be considered necessary in any particular locality.

In most cities there is decided need for better school buildings or new buildings to prevent crowding in the older structures. There are few cities that can boast of better school buildings than those of our own city. We have just completed a magnificent high school that will, doubtless, meet all the requirements of this community for many years to come. The establishment of the junior high schools throughout the city may call for some new buildings and these must be gradually supplied. The most pressing demand at the present time, is for a new Edison school and the school committee has recommended the construction of a twenty-room building for that district.

Public sentiment seems to favor the old site or one adjoining on the common. This does not imply that any additional space is to be taken from the common, but we understand it to mean either that the new building will be placed on the site of the old or upon one of equal area mid-way between South and Thorneike streets. There should be no difficulty in erecting on such a site a building entirely adequate to meet all the needs of that district. Indeed it might be a mistake to erect any large building there for the reason that St. Peter's parish is expected soon to provide a new school building that may draw largely from the public schools in the vicinity.

Appreciation of Teachers

The observance of Education Week should include some action looking to a proper appreciation of the teachers of the city and their responsible duties. It is generally the case that the teachers seldom get the credit they deserve for their arduous labors when they are criticized for the mere trifles when anything seems to go wrong or when parents think their children are not making sufficient progress or not properly treated at school. In many instances, the teachers are unjustly criticized by parents who do not take the trouble to visit the teachers and learn the true conditions. It is a fact also, that while the salaries of teachers are perhaps as high in Lowell as in any similar city, nevertheless, there will always be found some teachers who are not receiving the full amount to which they are entitled. Sometimes this results from favoritism, sometimes from inadvertence, and at others from the slanted appropriations.

School costs have increased naturally in the same proportion as the cost of all similar activities. Building material is much higher, so is labor, and these factors entering into the cost of living, make it necessary that teachers' salaries should be increased at least in the same proportion as the purchasing power of the dollar has declined since 1916. Increased costs usually go with increased efficiency, but unfortunately they too often grow without results. In some communities the cost of education has increased more rapidly than in others because some have become more wealthy than others. The question arises as to the remedy to be applied where school costs have increased more rapidly than the wealth of the community. The matter of an equitable distribution of the taxes enters into this computation and it is often found that the proportion of the taxes expended for education is not nearly as great as it should be.

This is a matter that has engaged the attention of city governments and state legislatures, but without bringing about uniformity of action. The per capita expense of maintaining elementary schools also differs very considerably in the various cities. Lowell in this respect occupies what might be termed the average position, rising neither to extravagance on the one hand nor sinking to parsimony on the other.

It is expected that Lowell will take an active part in the observance of Education Week, and one feature of any such observance in this city should be to bring to public attention the various educational facilities provided for the benefit of the people, the cost of the same, together with a presentation of the benefits to be derived by every class of people in this community from taking advantage of the opportunities for educational and technical training provided at great expense by the city and the state for the benefit of our people.

MIDDLESEX NORTH IN 1924

The remarkable success of the autumnal agricultural exhibition and fair held recently in the Auditorium, where the active and progressive members and friends of the historic Middlesex North Agricultural association presented one of the finest free-for-all displays of farm produce ever held in Lowell since the flourishing days of the same aggregation when it held forth on the old fair grounds on Gorham street, augurs well for the future years. The fact that the exhibits were donated to local charities is another pleasing indication of the spirit of the association.

We are informed that plans are already in the making for the autumn exhibition in 1924, with many new attractions being sought to give impetus to the annual presentation of the farmers' best offerings.

A leading feature of next year's exhibition calendar is to be a monster exhibit by the state fisheries and game department, which has promised to offer something worth going many miles to see. There is ample opportunity for this and many other displays of a similar kind in the great Auditorium, and if the Middlesex North members set about the task of securing vitally interesting attractions of this kind, they will be assured of highly profitable results. This movement will receive the sympathetic support of this community and particularly of the people who would like to see the custom of holding the autumnal agricultural fairs revived on a large scale.

MORE BOY BABIES

We are guided by mysterious forces. One of these is revealed by the government report that, since the war, there has been a decided increase in the number of boy babies born, as compared with the smaller number of girl babies. It is alleged, however, that the death rate among boys is greater than that of girls. This may reverse the situation.

This tendency has been noticed in England as well as America. It supports an ancient theory that wars and epidemics are followed by increases in births of males. Behold Nature replacing the soldiers killed in battle.

FAST TYPEWRITING

The speed typewriting championship of the world goes to Albert Pangora. He wrote 9120 words in an hour, making only 21 errors. The average word has at least six letters, so Pangora hit the keys accurately nearly 60,000 times in an hour—or 1000 times a minute, about 17 a second. Each letter had to be carried to the eye, on to the brain, then telegraphed to the fingertips and allied muscles. Thought is the fastest thing in the universe.

"The most glorious memorial building in the United States" was the expression used by Edward F. Traftz of Chicago, former field secretary of the United States chamber of commerce, member of the overseas food commission under Mr. Hoover, in describing our Memorial Auditorium. That is but a confirmation of what was said by Secretary of Labor Davis in describing the same building. It seems that the people of Lowell are only beginning to realize what a treasure of a building they have in the great Auditorium.

WINDS

The North Wind is a chill wind,
A shrill wind,
A bold wind,
It whistles of the wintry seas and of the frozen trail;
A strong wind and a cruel, a harsh and bitter cold wind
That calls hard-bitted rovers to battle storm and gale.

The East Wind is a low wind,
A slow wind,
A bland wind,
That whispers of the Orient and murmurs of Cathay,
A mystical and magical, a "Never-Never-Land" wind,
Where age-old peoples calmly drowse the centuries away.

The West Wind is a keen wind,
A clean wind,
A brisk wind,
It calls to blithe adventurers to seek the far frontier;
A "Leap-before-you-look" wind,
A "Never-mind-the-risk" wind,—
The breath of open country and of azure skies and clear.

The South Wind is a shy wind,
A sly wind,
A warm wind,
That breathes of love and laziness where tropic waters fount!
So North or South or East or West,
There always is a charm wind
That makes it hard for wanderers to linger long at home!

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Contrary to existent rumors, the old Lowell jail has not been sold. It is still the property of the county. Erson R. Barlow, county commissioner, nailed the rumor of its being sold on the head, stating that there was "nothing to it." Nobody has even set a price upon the building as yet, according to the commissioner, who also stated that the county is anxious to sell.

One of the big hits in the minstrel show conducted under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society of St. Patrick's parish Wednesday night, was Daniel Brennan, a singer of note and a popular member of Lowell's police force. "Brennan" was an old man in the minstrel show and proved exceptionally clever in putting over jokes. Last week Dan was appointed a permanent officer and has been doing traffic duty on one of our main streets of late.

There is sure to be a large gathering around the Auditorium next Sunday, when Secretary of Labor James Davis, is scheduled to lend the honor of his presence to an initiation of a large class of new members into the Local Order of Moose. It is taking on machinery at this time it will be ready for immediate use should the occasion arise before the new home is ready and at the same time the possibility of a delay in receiving machinery after the new home is erected will in a great measure be avoided.

BASEBALL BAT DROPS BANDIT

Boy Braved Robber's Bullets and Swung Bludgeon—Bandit Dying

Two Yeggs Force Bank Messenger to Admit Them Into Taxi and Take $740

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Two audacious holdup attempts, one successful, were added to New York's crime wave last yesterday, while police spend a dragnet over the city's underworld districts.

The successful robbery was enacted on busy Fifth avenue, when two messengers of the Garfield bank, Fifth avenue and 23rd street, were compelled to admit two robbers into their taxicab and relinquish $740. The bank's escaped and as in the case with witnesses of previous robberies the messengers were unable to identify any pictures in the rogues' gallery as those of the perpetrators.

The second holdup of the day cost the adventurer a broken head, smashed by a baseball bat, wielded by a boy who braved the robbers' bullets. The robbers had taken the cash receipts from a little candy store on the lower East Side waterfront and was fleeing when the youth stole behind him and swung the bludgeon. The bandit was reported dying in a hospital.

BANQUET FOR PLANT CHIEF

B. F. Mahoney of Telephone
Co. Given Farewell Dinner
By His Co-Workers

Presentation of Clock One of
Many Pleasant Incidents
Last Night

A farewell banquet was given Benjamin J. Mahoney, recently appointed to the position of plant superintendent of the Boston district, by over 350 friends and fellow workers, last night in Lincoln hall in testimony of the esteem in which they have held him during the period in which he has been district plant chief of the Lowell-Framingham district for the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. Among the guests were representatives from two districts and included the towns of Concord, Lawrence, Haverhill, Framingham, Marlboro and Milford.

A handsome mahogany hall clock of the grandfather type was presented Mr. Mahoney as a parting gift during the course of the banquet by Thomas D. Delaney, on behalf of the men of the district. He responded to the presentation in fitting terms, thanking all present for the interest they had shown in his welfare, and followed with a speech on his line of work and assurances that he would endeavor to give the same service in his new capacity, as he has given in the old.

The toastmaster, Joseph T. McGirr, opened the program with a few words of welcome and read letters from Mrs. Matthew Jones and General Manager George Dresser of the telephone company regretting their inability to be present, following which he called on C. M. Tarr, general plant manager, who avowed his faith in the selection that has been made of Mr. Mahoney.

During an interlude in the program Miss Rue Leclair of Concord sang a few popular songs.

Remarks were then made by John

J. Dole, International telephone workers' union president, F. E. Tarr, division plant superintendent and J. A. McCoy, superintendent of plant methods and results. There was also singing by James E. Donnelly. The clock was then presented by Mr. Delaney and accepted by Mr. Mahoney after which came the speech of the evening by the latter. In part, Mr. Mahoney said, "What a wonderful company we work for. Year after year it is solving with earnest effort the many perplexing questions that naturally arise between a corporation of such magnitude and its many employees. It is steadily reducing to a minimum problems of relationship between employer and employee. A problem almost as old as humanity itself."

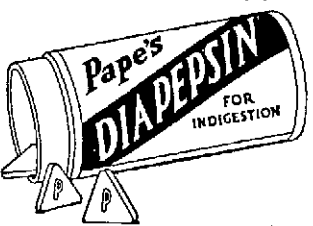

"The Telephone company is a public service corporation. Its stockholders are public investors and the public its patron. Service is the keynote of success. We all play an important part in the performance of service. As a chain is no stronger than its weakest link, so it may be said that our organization in rendering service is dependent upon the loyalty of its most humble employee. I am about to assume enlarged duties and responsibilities. My efforts will avail little unless they co-ordinate and dovetail with maximum efficiency in other branches of our service. We are all public servants even though our names may not appear on official ballots election day. We can only win public favor by eternal vigilance—good service and square dealings. The public is an exacting taskmaster, but fair."

"Today, there is a much healthier and better mutual understanding between the public and public service corporations than in past years. Both sides have learned much and profited thereby. Mutual confidence is the guiding force. It is no longer possible ble for agitators to arouse public feeling against a public service corporation elaborating with heated eloquence upon imaginary grievances. The public today is cynical listening to such talk. Facts alone will influence, and they must be based upon truth.

At the conclusion of the speech, other testimonials to Mr. Mahoney's worth and character were given by J. A. Hunsdell, manager of the Lowell Electric Light Co., and F. E. Sargent, of the Lawrence Gas and Electric Light Co., followed by a recitation by Frank Kelly, and a song by George Carr of Lawrence.

W. A. McCoy, newly appointed successor to Mr. Mahoney, was then called upon and asked for the same measure of co-operation that had existed under his predecessor and promised to put forth his best efforts in his new position. Arthur Wilson, plant chief at Framingham was the final speaker, and the program closed with community singing led by William F. Sadlier.

The committee responsible for the success of the banquet was headed by Thomas B. Delaney, who took occasion last night to thank all for their efforts to put over a good affair. With him the following served: Lowell, V. C. Johnson, secretary; Ralph Parker, Marlboro, John J. Riley.

Gurr, William J. McIntyre, Daniel J. Sullivan and Joseph A. Mahan. Lawrence, Wesley B. Humphrey, John Gooden and Joseph Flanagan. Haverhill, Frank J. Quinn, Charles F. Hamilton, and Frank S. Lovett. Keep the Babies from Catching Cold—Parking Space for Carriages Inside

INDIAN MUSIC THRILLS LARGE AUDIENCE

Charles Wakefield Cadman, noted composer, and Princess Tsianina, Indian

prima donna, played to a capacity house in the Memorial Auditorium last evening. From her first appearance, Princess Tsianina in her native costume made of white leather, her head-band of beads and necklaces of various colorings, won the hearts of her admirers with her clean-toned voice, her dignified carriage and deep sense of appreciation of the throng who welcomed her so cordially on her first appearance locally. Her first solo, "Invocation to the Sun God," a harmonized and translated Zuni song by Troyer, typified the great faith which the Red Men had in a Superior Being, and the reverence with which they pleaded for protection both upon themselves and their children. "By the Waters of Minnetonka," a

Sioux melody, was sung with a deep sense of love and belief in nature, portraying the characteristic beliefs of native Indians.

Princess Tsianina's selections were followed by piano renditions by Mr. Cadman. "To a Vanishing Race," composed by himself, expressed the pathos of the Indian race, while "The Wolf Dance" also one of his compositions, depicted a more barbarous trend. "Ho, Ye Warriors," sung by the princess, a Sioux melody, arranged and idealized by Charles Wakefield Cadman, portrayed a group of Indian women bidding farewell and Godsend to their men about to go on the warpath.

Perhaps the most interesting feature on the program was the playing of selections on the flageolet, an Indian musical instrument shaped flute-like, containing eight notes, or an octave, and producing a weird, stirring air. The various love songs played upon this instrument by Mr. Cadman, showed that we today are not the originals of syncope or ragtime as it is called, but that even the Indians in their love melodies, especially used the stirring of the long and the short note.

"Tell Her My Lodge is Warm," an Ojibway melody, transcribed by Mr. Cadman and dedicated to the princess, was one of the many songs, clearly picturing various scenes, the scene in the particular song mentioned being a winter one in the Northwoods.

"Pale Moon," another picturesque solo, a soft, dreamy melody, was rendered with the skill of the accomplished artist, by the princess.

"Canoe Song" from the Opera "Shanewis," by Cadman, was sung by Princess Tsianina in the native way. In this selection the princess used the paddling motion of the canoe in opposite rhythm with that of the song. This is one of the features of the native Indian melodies. Oftentimes a song is sung in one time, gesticulations made in another, and conversation going on in a still different time, all in the one composition.

A series of selections from various "suites" composed by Cadman and rendered by him were then given, followed by the closing numbers on the program, including "The Spring Song," the Robin Woman" and "Tadla's Lament" sung by Princess Tsianina.

As a closing selection "At Dawning," a closing selection "At Dawning," a world famous vocal classic composed by Cadman, was sung by the princess in her winning, pleasing way, revealing the sincere applause of the audience who had listened, infatuated, carried into ecstasy, by the rendition of the alluring folk-songs, love songs and laments of the American Indians.

No Baker's Cake When
This Boy Is Around

SCOTT PHELPS

By NEA Service.
TOLEDO, O., Nov. 14—Imagine, if you can, a healthy youngster of 12 who would rather bake cakes than play baseball.
Well, you will find him here in the person of Scott Phelps.
To him the kitchen appeals far more than the diamond or gridiron. Ever since he was 3, Scott has been mixing up toothsome pastries.
And today he is the champion cake baker of Northern Ohio.
His delectable devil's food won him the decision in a recent contest over several hundred women competitors—women who pride themselves on their cake-baking abilities.
But cake baking isn't his only achievement. His teachers say he is mighty with the brush and water colors.

More Hook-Ups for Radio Fans

Laurence M. Cockaday is one of the amateurs who came upon a hook-up that now carries his name. It is called the Cockaday, or Four-Circuit Tuner. He has brought out other contributions to the science, and is shown here at work on a new hook-up of his invention.

Along with radio's popularity, comes the question of popular interest in its technical development.

That, proof shows, is about as high as the new science itself. Just as ever radio fan has won over others toward a greater interest in broadcasting reception, he himself has become a convert to the actual development of the science.

Thousands of fans, old and young, are daily scanning radio publications. If they're not seeking information from radio sales clerks, for ways to improve their receiving sets. Hook-ups are as popular as ever, and parts are being improved regularly.

By far the greatest interest in this branch of radio lies in the hook-up. At first it was the simple Copo circuit. Then came the regenerative circuit, which brought out the name of Edward A. Armstrong as one of the greatest radio engineers of the country.

All For Better

But hardly had his fame reached the peak when other more complicated hook-ups were produced. There came the neutrodyne, considered among the most efficient hook-ups extant. Then the reflex and other arrangements of parts by which it was believed a listener could improve his receiving set.

Yet this is only the beginning of the technical development of radio. Engineers are still striving to eliminate interference, and for this they experiment with hook-ups and new parts with the hope of gaining their goal this way.

All their movements are followed zealously by the true radio fan.

Amateur's Chance

In this, the radio amateur is the leader. He is the one who is always tearing down and building up his set. And it is he who comes forth, now and then with a new hook-up which he believes may revolutionize radio.

The Grimes reflex circuit, one of the famous hook-ups of today for which the inventor is said to have received half a million dollars, is the product of an amateur's brain. His experience is typical among young amateurs, anyone of whom may come out one of these days with even a more effective hook-up.

This universal search for better hook-ups promises to maintain its popularity among the fans, at any rate until the ideal set is found. This ideal achievement, as engineers see it today, would be one that would work well under all conditions of weather and other disturbances, which would be so simple in its operation that any outsider could work it, and which would bring in distant as well as nearby stations at will.

King Dissolves Parliament

is engaging the close and earnest attention of my government.

"The arduous negotiations for peace with Turkey, begun in November, 1922, have, I am happy to say, been brought to a successful conclusion. A bill to carry into effect certain provisions of the settlement reached at Lausanne on July 24, will be laid before the parliament as soon as possible. It is my earnest hope that the conclusion of this treaty may bring real peace to the Near East and may herald an era of political and commercial prosperity for Turkey and for the countries which are renewing friendly relations with her.

"Negotiations are proceeding with the United States government for the settlement of difficulties with regard to the carriage of liquor in transit and illicit importation into the United States.

"I deplore the disaster that has recently befallen Japan. The heartfelt sympathy of my country is with the Japanese government and people—our former allies and our close friends—who are bearing this national tragedy with characteristic fortitude and heroism.

"My government welcomed the opportunity afforded them during the last few weeks of meeting so many of my ministers from the self-governing dominions and the representatives of India. The conferences just terminated were marked throughout by a spirit of great cordiality and good will. Important questions affecting the foreign relations and the defense of my empire were carefully examined. Particular attention was devoted to the promotion of trade and settlement within the empire upon which the well-being of my people so largely depends at this time. I am convinced that meetings of this kind are of the highest value in promoting a spirit of mutual co-operation amongst my people at home and overseas.

"Members of the house of commons. I thank you for the provision you have made for the public service.

"My lords, and members of the house of commons, the position of agriculture and the problem of unemployment throughout the country continue to cause me deep anxiety. Despite all efforts of my government to stimulate trade and alleviate distress, the circumstances of large numbers of our fellow citizens still remain deplorable.

"My ministers are convinced that unless measures for the safeguarding and development of home markets are adopted, no permanent improvement in their situation can be expected."

Attendance at the final session was small, for most of the members, knowing that dissolution was to be announced this morning, had already hurried to their constituencies to begin the intensive election campaign. In the upper house, only seven lords and a bishop were present, while in the house of commons, most of the seats were empty.

Both houses rose as soon as the king's speech had been read, thus ending the life of this parliament.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Disappears

If your blood pressure is too high you cannot pass a life insurance examination. Perhaps you don't know that you have this serious trouble which often causes apoplexy and unexpected death, but if you suffer dizzy spells, shortness of breath, but flashes, are nervous, moody, or don't sleep well, your blood pressure is undoubtedly higher than it ought to be even if you don't realize it.

Norma, the prescription of a Buffalo physician, reduces high blood pressure, then all the ailments caused by this abnormal and dangerous condition quickly disappear. A. W. Dows & Co. and reliable druggists everywhere have a big demand for Norma—it has helped thousands and should do the same for you. Be sure to ask for Norma as this is purely vegetable and guaranteed to contain nothing harmful. Mail orders filled C.O.D. by Norma Laboratories, Inc., Albany, N. Y.—Adv.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN NEARBY BILLERICA

The Allisima Dramatic club of No. Billerica met last evening at the home of Miss Mary McCarthy in Chadwick street. President Miles J. Finnegan called the meeting to order, and introduced the new director of the club, James Gannon, who was received with enthusiasm by the members. Mr. Gannon replied in a fitting manner and told of his plans for the club and of the qualities essential to a dramatic organization.

Rev. Fr. Richard Geawell of North Cambridge, who is the esteemed friend and former director of the club, and Mr. Gannon were the guests of the evening.

Important business was transacted regarding the selection of a new play and cast. The play, which will prove to be better than anything the club has ever presented, is a royaleté play of the better class, and the townspeople are anxiously looking forward to the night of its presentation.

After the business meeting a most delicious chicken supper was served by the hostess, Miss Mary McCarthy, assisted by Miss Elmore LeBlanc.

A very enjoyable social hour, in which everyone participated, concluded a very pleasant evening.

The class of 1925 of the Howe high school will give a "Town Gossip Dance" this evening in the high school hall. There will be an entertainment, dancing, refreshments and the "Town Gossip" will be on sale.

The Howe high school football eleven will play Middlesex high school at Middlesex Thursday afternoon.

INTER-CITY SOLVENT
CREDITOR DECLARES

A petition to revise in matter of law the proceedings in federal district court, in the bankruptcy case of the Inter-City trust was filed in the United States circuit court of appeals in Boston yesterday by counsel for Frank Palmer, a creditor.

The petition says that the federal court has no jurisdiction over the Inter-City trust as it is a real estate investment trust and is not subject to be adjudicated a bankrupt nor to have its assets disposed of under the bankruptcy act.

The petition contends that the Inter-City trust is solvent by more than $250,000. It asserts that all challenges to the jurisdiction of the federal court, filed in that court, have been dismissed, and that the court has adjudicated the Inter-City trust a bankrupt, and that receivers have been appointed.

"Similar trusts with millions of dollars invested in real estate are now in existence in Massachusetts," the petition goes on. "If a precedent is established by adjudicating this trust a bankrupt all said trusts will be vulnerable to attack and destruction in the bankruptcy court and the security of investments in this form will vanish."

Prayers of the petition include the following: "That the court rule that the adjudication of the Inter-City Trust as a bankrupt be declared null and void."

"That the court order the dismissal of the case from the files of the district court."

"That the circuit court vacate all orders and decrees entered in the case by the district court and by Referee in Bankruptcy Arthur Black."

PUBLIC RESPONSIVE TO LEHIGH APPEAL

Louis A. Olney, professor of chemistry and head of department of textile chemistry and dyeing at Lowell Textile school, and chairman of the $4,000,000 Greater Lehigh fund campaign in the upper New England district of which this city is a part, told of the generous support of the general public as well as of the members of the Lehigh family, in a statement issued here today. Persons never affiliated with Lehigh in any way, he said, have shown in a material way their appreciation of the position the Bethlehem, Pa., institution holds in the training of technical men for scientific progress and industrial development in America.

"Numerous instances of generous support of the $4,000,000 Greater Lehigh fund campaign from non-Lehigh sources have been reported to him."

SUMMARY OF EARLY MORNING A. P. NEWS

Hiram Johnson at Chicago definitely announces candidacy for republican presidential nomination; declares for regional and district headquarters, he said. "In the Northeastern Pennsylvania district fully 75 per cent. of the subscribers reported to date have been persons never connected with Lehigh university in any way. A similar appreciation of the importance of the institution to the welfare of the nation has also been found in the New York metropolitan district, where non-English men form a considerable part of the subscribers to date."

vitalized republican party and says coming contest must decide whether party is to be permanent instrument of reaction or shall respond to present day conditions and aspirations.

Dr. William J. Mayo at Boston asserts that so long as the United States has adequate supply of pure water there is no good reason why prohibition should leave the land; noted surgeon says curative value of alcohol is overestimated and its use for medicine, overdone.

Senator Borah, in statement made public at Washington, declares reduction in present tax burden is a social and economic necessity; affirms that disclosures affecting war veterans' bureau are specific, shameless examples of waste of taxpayers' money and of inhumanity to afflicted soldiers.

Samuel Gompers receives congratulations upon 125th anniversary of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Gompers contrasts labor conditions today with 1881 and rejoices that conception of workman as a mere piece of merchandise has generally disappeared.

Senator Heflin, Alabama, says he will ask senate to investigate activities of a nationally known republican politician, who he declares, is involved in land frauds; declines to mention names but asserts inquiry may concern men prominent in councils of the government.

House of Protestant Episcopal Bishops at Dallas affirms it to be urgent duty of the United States either to join existing League of Nations or some other council that will avert danger of another great war.

Three thousand University of Wisconsin girls condemn drinking by students of both sexes at that university.

Fifty Years Ago

A young man who practiced medicine in Pennsylvania became famous and was called in consultation in many towns and cities because of his success in the treatment of disease. This was Dr. Pierce, who finally made up his mind to place some of his medicines before the public and moving to Buffalo, N. Y., put up what he called his "Favorite Prescription," and placed it with the druggists in every state.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has long been recognized as a tonic for diseases peculiar to womanhood. After suffering pain, feeling nervous, dizzy, weak and dragged-down by weakness of her sex—a woman to quickly restored to health by its use. Thousands of women testify that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has entirely eradicated their distressing ailments.

More recently that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's, called An-uric (for kidneys and backache), has been successfully used by many thousands who write to Dr. Pierce of the benefits received—that their backache, rheumatism and other symptoms of uric acid deposits in joints or muscles have been completely conquered by its use.

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial pkg. of any of his remedies, or write for free medical advice.—Adv.

This 8 1/2-inch fry pan, typical of Wear-Ever quality, specially priced until November 24th at

(over 25¢ extra)

In the spring of 1921 a small "Wear-Ever" Fry Pan was offered at a special price. 135,000 New England housewives took advantage of that special offer and have found what "Wear-Ever" quality means. They will be quick to appreciate the opportunity now presented to add to their kitchen equipment a LARGER "Wear-Ever" Fry Pan.

This medium size, thick, hard, sheet fry pan—a pan that browns potatoes as well as it cooks chops, ham and eggs, and steaks—is an excellent example of the fine quality that has placed the "Wear-Ever" trade mark so high in the esteem of American housewives.

Yale Has Best Eleven in Years— Dopes to Beat Leading Rivals

The best team that Yale has had in years.

That is the opinion of the football experts as to the Blue eleven of 1923. Things have been breaking rather badly for several years at New Haven but it looks as if the team of this year will wipe out the disgrace of some past seasons.

Yale dopes to win over Princeton and Harvard. The decisive defeat of the Army by Yale gives some idea of the strength of the Bulldogs. Yale beat the Army 32 to 10 while the best Notre Dame could do was to win by a 12 to 0 score.

Early in the year the game with Bucknell, Jones lost the services of his star back, Charley O'Hearn.

A broken leg put him out for the rest of the season. It was feared the loss of O'Hearn would slow down the backfield but the team had the proper spirit and kept up its winning ways.

TEXTILE ELEVEN IN PRINCETON A. A. AND WILL LONG REMEMBER LAST CONTEST OAKLEAVES TO MEET PALMER'S RUN

Lowell Textile plays the U. S. Coast Guard team of New London, Conn., on the campus tomorrow. It will be the last game of the season for the Red and Black.

The New England team has played against leading college eleven in New England this season and up several stiff battles. Textile will have to employ her best wares to annex a win. After tomorrow, basketball will claim the attention of the athletes. Prospects for another good team are bright, and Manager Bill Rivers has arranged a formidable schedule.

WILL WATCH GAME WITH MUCH INTEREST

Local high school football fans are interested in the big game at Lawrence tomorrow afternoon between the Haverhill and Lawrence high schools, regarded as two of the fastest teams in the state this present season. Local interest in the game is fostered by the thought that Lawrence meets Lowell in the annual clash on Thanksgiving. Haverhill has already beaten Lowell, 25 to 0, so that a comparison of figures after tomorrow's game will prove enlightening.

New York, with a population of 5,020,948, has only 365,963 dwellings.

NEW BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Opening of Professional Set for Next Wednesday Night—Clinton vs. Lowell

Plans are virtually completed for the opening of the newly created New England Professional Basketball league, of which Lowell is a member, in this city on next Wednesday night. Tentative arrangements call for the Clinton team, formerly the Germantown quintet, to meet the Lowell club in opening game in the Crescent rink. Final plans will be made at a league meeting to be held in Lowell on next Sunday afternoon.

The Clinton team is well known here having played in Lowell two years ago. It is one of the fastest in the state and the lineup used here in previous games remains practically intact.

The Lowell team, which is managed by the veteran star Harry "Blacky" Lew, is expected to be a fast organization, one capable of giving any team in the league a battle. Manager Lew expects to have "Fiddle" Moley of the Boston Whirlwinds; Ike Kamp, basketball and basketball star; Arthur Ryan of Nashua, well and favorably known here as one of the best offensive men in New England; Populone of Belvidere Falls, a great defensive player; Danny O'Connor, C.M.I. Cadet football and basketball hero; Joe Foley, brilliant forward of the C.Y.M.U. team for several years back, and himself.

Local games are scheduled to start at 8:15 o'clock.

lineup. Gopher safety man, was between him and the coveted line. But a bunch of Purple hustlers acting as interference, put him out of the play. And Palmer careered unimpeded for the touchdown. Goal was kicked, knotting the score at 7-7, where it remained.

Thus, was an almost certain Minnesota victory turned into a tie game. A fumble, a "break," had enabled Northwestern to even a draw with the outfit which was at least two touchdowns better.

WAKEFIELD TEAM COMES HERE TOMORROW

Lowell high will have a stiff proposition on her hands when she tackles Wakefield high at Alumni field tomorrow afternoon. The players are in fine shape, however, after the strenuous game with Haverhill last Monday and will go against the Wakefield outfit determined to wipe out the stigma of the Armistice day defeat.

Light weather was indulged in by the squad yesterday afternoon and today, the Haverhill game being regarded as a hard enough scrimmage for one week. The team is confident of beating Wakefield. A kick by Ralph Willard spelled defeat for the visiting crew last year. But the locals hope to repeat by a much larger margin tomorrow.

INTEREST EVINCED IN SATURDAY'S GAME

The Princeton A.A. and the Oakleaves two fast Centralville teams, will get into action on the Lakeview avenue grounds next Sunday in what gives evidence of being one of the most important gridiron engagements in that locality this season. There is a great deal of friendly rivalry between the two teams and much has been said of their respective abilities.

All the players are well known in the district, and the largest crowd of the season is expected to turn out to see them perform. The game will start at 2:45 o'clock.

The Butler Seconds will meet the fast Clipper A.C. of Lawrence on the old Fair grounds at 2:30 o'clock next Sunday afternoon. The Butlers whitewashed the Oakleaves on the Textile campus by a 20-0 score last Sunday. All players are requested to report for practice at 6:30 o'clock this evening.

The Riverside A.A. will play the strong Lisbon Juniors on the Textile campus Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Games with other teams may be arranged by calling 1943-Y.

The Wildcats accept the challenge of the Peltons for next Sunday afternoon. The Pelton manager is requested to get in touch with Frank Bellencourt, Tel. 1065.

The Pontes will play St. Patrick's J. H. N. team next Sunday. Both teams are in good condition and anxious to line up. The Pontes used in previous games will again be in evidence.

The fast St. Patrick's will play the Salem A. A. on the North commencing Sunday and not the Pontes. As there is great rivalry between the Salens and the St. Patrick's, a lively game is expected. St. Patrick's players are requested to report for practice tomorrow at 1:30 p. m.

The Wanderers are greeted at the action of St. Peter's Cadets in canceled their game, scheduled for next Sunday. The Wanderers claim that the Cadets have been after them all season for a game and just when final arrangement had been made, the Cadets step in and call a halt. A strong Boston outfit will oppose the Wanderers Sunday. Practice will be held tomorrow afternoon.

Heisman's Fate Hangs in Balance

BY NILLY EVANS
Big things in football are just ahead for Coach John Heisman of the Washington and Jefferson team. Success in those particularly big things means everything to Heisman.

So far this year Washington and Jefferson has run true to form, with the exception of the meeting with Lafayette. Last year, coached by "Greasy" Neale, the Presidents scored a thrilling win over Lafayette, 14 to 13.

Early dope made W. & J. the favorite over Lafayette in this year's clash. Carnegie Tech had beaten Pittsburgh, 7 to 2, while Pittsburgh held a 7 to 3 victory over Lafayette. On paper W. & J. was picked to win by the margin of a touchdown or field goal. Instead the best it could do was a 6 to 6 tie, in a game in which Lafayette rather than played the Presidents.

Following the Pittsburgh game comes the clash with West Virginia, the football classic of the year from a W. & J. standpoint. The dope gives Heisman better than an even chance to defeat Pittsburgh, but against West Virginia it's another story. In order to make an impression in his new position Heisman must go good against these two natural rivals of W. & J.

Due to the fact that W. & J. had one of its best games of the year canceled, because of a dispute over West, colored halfback and star of his team, Heisman's eleven has not been severely tested. A 12 to 7 victory over Brown and a 6 to 0 win over University of Detroit are the high spots in the W. & J. schedule.

Washington and Lee was scheduled to play the Presidents, but the southern-ers objected to playing against the colored halfback. W. & J. refused to withdraw him from the lineup. The result, no game. Washington and Lee has a mighty good team this year and the result of a meeting with W. & J. would have offered an opportunity to act a good line on the Presidents.

FOR NON-ATTENDANCE AT BATTERY DRILLS

Capt. Charles Hodges, sitting in Westford street armory last night as summary court, tried two local field artillery national guardsmen for failure to attend drills. Private Walter Lamphier was found guilty and a suspended sentence of 15 days in the house of correction was imposed.

The other defendant gave sufficient evidence of physical disability to warrant dismissing the case against him.

In the Headquarters Detachment and Combat Team of the 10th P.A., Massachusetts National Guard, a Lowell unit, there has been considerable laxity of late on the part of some members in their attendance at drills. In order to correct this attitude, it is planned to have several more meetings arranged before summary court unless those now under observation change their ways.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 10

"Now, how are we going to get ashore?" asked Nick. "Oh, I'm all soaked anyway," replied Jack. "I'll swim over and make a raft and then come back after the rest of you." "Let's all swim," shouted Jinks, and in an instant the four sailors and Flip were diving into the water.

During the last few moments that the Betsy Clair was plowing its way through the water it had drawn very close to the island. Thus it was but a short time before the members of the crew were in a shallow spot. "Now we can wade ashore," shouted Jinks. And they all did.

"This looks like a real place," said Jack, as he reached dry land. When Jinks, Bibbs, Nick and Flip also were on the sand, Jinks pointed ahead and called attention to a large black kettle that hung over a place where sticks had been piled up for a fire. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

"I'M MISTAH TURKEY BUZZARD," SAID THE BIG BIRD WITH A TWINKLE IN HIS EYE

Nancy and Nick had climbed up into a buttonwood tree in Dixie Land when they noticed a big bird flying slowly round in circles over their heads.

Each circle was a little lower than the others and pretty soon, with a couple of flaps of his great wings, the bird settled on the ground at their feet.

"Good day!" he said hospitably. "What you all doin'?"

"Why," answered Nick. "We're just sitting here. The Fairy Queen sent us to see if everybody in Dixie Land was all right. What's your name?"

"I'm Mistah Turkey Buzzard!" said the big bird with a twinkle in his eye. "But down south here we consider it polite for strangers to tell their names first."

"We're Nancy and Nick, the twins," answered Nancy, who felt that Nick had done enough talking. "And now, Mistah Turkey Buzzard, have you any troubles?"

"Not so many," answered Mistah Buzzard. "But still I have a few. I wish you would tell the Fairy Queen, please, to send a few more mice and beetles and bats down to Dixie Land. Also a few bees and wasps, rather a great many bees and wasps, rather a great many bees and wasps, rather a great many bees and wasps."

"What for?" asked Nick. "What do you want all those things for?"

"To eat, of course," said Mistah Turkey Buzzard.

"To eat, of course," said Mistah Turkey Buzzard.

"To eat, of course," said Mistah Turkey Buzzard.

WOULD BOARD UP DURKEE HOUSE

Architects Working on Its Restoration Would Protect
it Through Winter

Plans Approved for Rebuilding in Spring Along Lines
of Original Structure

At a meeting last night of the public property committee of the city council and the architects named by the council to decide upon the methods of restoration of the old Durkee house, the latter reported on preliminary plans of restoration and requested that in order to save what little remains of the building, it be boarded up until plans are completed for its rebuilding.

Councilor Arthur Genest was chairman of the meeting and among those present were Councilors James J. Gallagher, Arthur B. Chadwick, Frederick A. Sadtler, Daniel F. Moriarty and Architects Millard F. Davis, Harry Prescott Graves, Perley Gilbert and Harrison Byam. Henry L. Bourke and Edwin R. Clarke were unable to be present.

Millard F. Davis was spokesman for the architects and made a report covering the complete restoration of the building and presented plans showing the original house, as built in 1864, and the several additions that have been made since that time. He stated that as J. M. Wilson on Seventh avenue had parts of the original chimney, hinges, casings, etc., and was willing to have these put back on the old house, these parts would aid greatly in the rebuilding.

The architects asked for an extension of time so that they might have plenty of opportunity to draw up plans and also suggested that no work be started on the building until next spring. It was then decided to request the buildings department to board up the whole house so that the depredations that have been going on for years will be stopped.

Among the preliminary suggestions offered by the board of architects were the following:

Bring the whole building to a level. Remove all modern work such as partitions, plastering, etc., but keep the roof as it is in good condition.

Remove the present modern chimney and rebuild it as it was formerly, using the portions now the property of J. M. Wilson. Fill in the cellar except the portion under the chimney. Restore the outside cornice by continuing decayed members.

Also, that only a portion of the house be restored, leaving the remainder as the construction embodies three different periods and would be interesting to the public. Finish one room on each floor.

As the court room on the second floor has a domed or arched ceiling, it would make an interesting study. Refinish only a portion of the walls and ceiling here.

Restore all outside windows and doors as only small portions of these are now left.

DEFENSE GETS VERDICT

Superior Court Jury Finds
Against McMahon in $5000
Auto Accident Case

A jury verdict for the defendants was returned before Superior Court Judge Stanley B. Qua here yesterday afternoon in the $5000 tort action brought against Fred L. Snow of Tyngsboro by Michael R. McMahon of this city.

Mainly asked damages for injuries sustained last December when he claimed he was struck and knocked down by defendant's auto in Rogers street, Tewksbury. He spent a week in St. John's hospital and following his release there claimed he was obliged to remain away from his mill for several weeks.

Lawrence E. Downes represented the defendant while Thomas B. Higgins appeared for the plaintiff. The $5000 action brought by Ella M. Emery, widow of the late Nathaniel A. Emery of Lowell, against Martha A. Gage was next on the trial calendar. William H. Wilson and Warren W. Fox are attorneys for the plaintiff and Nason A. Proctor and Alfred P. Sawyer are defense counsel.

In this action plaintiff sets forth that deceased sustained fatal injuries last winter when thrown from a sled owned by the defendant. The late Mr. Emery was employed by the defendant in her ice harvesting business, as a sled driver. The complaint alleges undue negligence in the care of harness, sled, and machinery connected with the business and sets forth that the deceased was not warned of the danger attending his work and further that there was a neglect to see that the ice was properly and safely loaded.

POSTMASTER MAHAN OF NEW LONDON DEAD

NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 15.—Bryan F. Mahan, postmaster of this city, former member of the 53rd congress from the second Connecticut district and one of the best known residents of eastern Connecticut, died here early today, following a long illness. Besides serving his last year of his second term as postmaster of this city, and his service in congress, Mr. Mahan was one of the leaders of the democratic party in the state, had been a member of the state legislature, having served in both house and senate and had been mayor of this city for two terms. He was 67 years of age.

House in Marshfield, which was built about the same time.

"We do not advise that the house be restored enough for a caretaker to live in as this would necessarily cause sections to be covered up that the public should be able to see. We do not advise the Durkee house be used as a museum—at least not at present time," said the architects.

"We suggest that the old Perry road be graded and widened to Varum avenue and that a sign be placed at the junction pointing to the Durkee house."

"As the old ell is all gone we would suggest that it be not rebuilt and that the cellar be filled in."

RED CROSS ROLL CALL BRINGS 1180 MEMBERS

The Red Cross roll-call in this season making new records in local membership campaigns. Yesterday—the fourth day of the 1923 call for additions to the rolls—enough new members were enrolled to bring the total for the week to 1,180. A $50 subscription was also reported.

The Centralville Red Cross booth, located in the sub-postoffice station, is now ready for receiving subscriptions and substantial results are expected in that territory.

Boy Scout Executive Edwin J. Melton has volunteered to assist in enrolling new members and has a block of certificates at his office in the Grosvenor building. Yesterday's totals:

Centralville sub-postoffice $18, Lowell Trust Co. $11, Union National bank $117, Old Lowell National bank $34, Appleton National bank $23, day's total, $203. Previously acknowledged, $977. Grand total, $1,180.

The local committee is headed by Benjamin S. Pouzner and includes Moses Marks, William Cantor, Bennett Silverblatt, George Greenberg, Frank Goldman and Sol Baker.

Among the guests expected to attend Sunday's banquet are Dr. Louis I. Goldenberg, director of the drive for New England; Dr. Harold Korn of New York, political editor of The Republic and Rabbi H. Raphael Gold of Boston.

THROWN WHEN ON VERGE OF SCORE

A light brown driving horse, attached to a buggy, became startled in Merrimack street near Shattuck shortly after 10 o'clock this morning and started on a wild run up Merrimack and Moody streets that was stopped only when a truck driver drove his machine across the street and stopped all forward progress.

In his flight the horse gave an exhibition of broken field running that would have thrilled a Jones, Houghton or Dobie. Holding a steady speed the canny horse sidestepped the first obstacle in his path, went up on the sidewalk near the side entrance of city hall to dodge another and left the buggy wrapped around a hitching post there. Unhindered by the buggy he accelerated his pace and easily sidestepped all other would-be tacklers, but failed to reckon with modern methods and was stopped when Ovid Roy of 36 Melrose avenue drove his lumber truck across the road.

The horse was tied to a post and blanketed, awaiting the arrival of the driver and the buggy was removed from the sidewalk in sections and also left for the owner to claim.

OLD TIMERS GATHER

Splendid Program of Entertainment at K. of C. Club House Last Night

"Old Timers' Night," a favorite event among members of Lowell Council, Knights of Columbus in the past, witnessed an exceptionally successful revival last night with about 800 "old" and "young" timers participating in a program of entertainment and games which surpassed all previous events of this nature.

Edward F. Slattery, Jr., lecturer of Lowell Council, was an ideal presiding officer at last night's exercises. Among the popular entertainers introduced was Edward Rowe, who made a distinct hit in his impersonations of Harry Lauder and his clever imitations of musical instruments. His "cornet" solo was especially well rendered. John P. Roane surprised everyone with the flexibility of his tenor voice, while Charles H. Burns, William J. Thornton, Mitchell J. Mahoney, James B. Coughlin, Thomas J. David, Dr. Thos. P. Carroll, and Daniel McCaffery all contributed splendidly to the pleasing program. Mr. McCaffery, an old-time stage favorite and present ticket-taker at Keith's theatre, showed that he still retains his old-time ability. His number last night caused not a few of his listeners to remark that he would be a real attraction on the Keith stage today. In addition there was chorus singing of old time songs led by Lecturer Slattery.

Besides the musical numbers on the program, there were two hotly-contested boxing bouts, featuring Peter Murphy and Joe Costa, and Johnny Duffy and Leo O'Sell. Leo Jones was the third man in the ring.

Among the prominent members present were Rev. Daniel J. Hoffmann, chaplain of the council, Rev. William P. Brennan of St. Margaret's church, Mayor Donovan, and three former mayors, Hon. Dennis J. Murphy, P.G.K., Hon. James B. Casey and Hon. James E. O'Donnell.

In a drawing contest for a $7500 hat, donated by Daniel S. O'Brien, Edward J. O'Day was the lucky winner.

At a brief business session, preceding the formal program, plans were discussed for the establishment of a debating team and other activities. Refreshments were served.

The committee responsible for the success of the affair consisted of the following: Chairman, John Condon; Ervin Libbey, James Winn, Robert Thomas, Chief Edward Saunders, John J. McArdie, James Danahy, John T. Burns, John Baxter and Daniel H. Walker.

Lowell Freight Handlers in Nation-Wide Campaign for
More Wages

Local Union Represented at Big Meeting at Charles-
town Thursday Night

Lowell freight handlers employed by the Boston & Maine and New York, New Haven & Hartford railroads, have responded to the call from national headquarters of the Brotherhood of Railroad Station Employees and declared their unanimous support of the nation-wide campaign to secure better wages.

Local No. 2, which meets the fourth Friday of each month in Odd Fellows hall, Middlesex street, has had the wage question under constant debate for several weeks past, but until the present time no formal action was taken. The Sun was informed this morning that until more definite opinions prevail as to the amount of money to be asked for in the wage-increase movement, no formal vote for official recording will be taken here. Local freight handlers are waiting to hear more from headquarters as to the proper increase demands to be made.

Lowell was represented Tuesday evening of the present week at a well-attended joint meeting of union freight-handlers, held in Hibernian hall, Charlestown, with leading union representatives of the employees' organization employed on the Boston & Maine, New York, New Haven & Hartford and Boston & Albany railroads on hand.

It was unanimously voted to file the required legal 3-days' notice for a strike in the wage agreements not later than the first of the month.

These men recently voted to reject or accept under protest the increase of one cent an hour, granted in a recent award made by the United States railroad labor board at Chicago, retroactive to October 16. They had petitioned for an increase of 12 cents an hour.

BIG ADDITION TO MOHAIR PLANT

LOWEST TURKEY PRICES IN YEARS WHOLESALE BELIEVE

Present Outlook is That Gobblers Will Not Be Too Expensive for Thanksgiving Menus—Vegetables in Plentiful Supply and at Fair Prices

The Thanksgiving dinner this year will cost the family less than it has for several years back. So say the marketmen of Lowell to the housewives who intend to adorn their holiday table with turkey or other fowl and the many "fixins." The present prospect is that turkeys will retail about 55 cents a pound. The choicer birds, especially those from the north, will bring probably five to ten cents more.

An yet turkeys have not entered the market in quantity and most of the local wholesale houses have yet to receive instructions as to the prices their shipments will be expected to bring. One local wholesaler when confronted today with two clippings, one saying that turkey would be about 55 cents and the other, saying 50 cents, was quite emphatic in asserting his belief that the first price was much nearer correct.

The third last year at this time sold at from 65 to 75 cents. This year's price decline is due as much as any

NEW CHARGES AGAINST FORBES

Inquiry Covers Wide Field, From Hospital Contracts to Alleged Drinking Parties

Ex-Director Continues to Deny All Charges of Misconduct

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The sharp plowshare of the Senate Veterans' committee, driven forward again today through the efforts of Director Charles R. Forbes, turned up another collection of charges, denials and counter charges.

With Forbes on the stand under cross-examination, the inquiry traversed a wide field of subjects, ranging from hospital contracts to alleged drinking parties and pleasure trips. The former director continued to deny generally and specifically the accusations of misconduct that have been made against him.

The code which Elias H. Mortimer testified was arranged for the use of certain contracting firms and some officers of the Veterans' Bureau figured largely today in the cross-examination.

Forbes reiterated his denial of any knowledge of any such code, which Mortimer had said was arranged during the Pacific coast trip of Forbes and his party in the summer of 1922 for the use of C. B. Hurley, of the Hurley-Mason Co. of Tacoma, J. W. Black of the Black-Thompson Co. of Chicago, and others.

Four Armed Men Beat Watchman and Escape With Wagon Load of Silk

Window of Fifth Avenue Shop Smashed and Furs Worth $50,000 Stolen

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Four armed men entered a lively stable in West 24th street early today, bound and gagged John Cohen, the night porter, after beating him into unconsciousness, and escaped with a wagonload of silk.

Four truckloads of silk, stored for the night on an upper floor of the stable, were untouched.

$50,000 Fur Robbery
NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Bandits today smashed a plate glass window in the fashionable Fifth avenue shop of Hekkon, Inc., and escaped in an automobile with $50,000 worth of furs.

The fur robbery, which followed the theft of a wagonload of silk from a lively stable on West 24th street, occurred while four watchmen were in the store, which is located on the avenue at 52nd street. The thieves sent two ash cans crashing through the window. The watchmen were unable to reach the street in time to get a description of either the bandits or their car.

Indications Multiply That England and France Are Approaching Parting of the Ways

He Laid Flowers on Harding Bier, and Now Goes to Join His Chief

AMBROSE HIGGINS, JR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The small, lisping voice of little Ambrose Higgins, Jr., age 3, who placed a wreath he bought with his own pennies at the bier of President Harding, is silenced in death.

His tiny body was crushed beneath the wheels of a lumbering truck as he dashed carefree across the street from his home in 164th street here, in New York, to a candy store.

Ambrose has joined his friend—President Harding.

While the world was mourning the death of the nation's chief executive as his body lay in state in the East room of the White House, Ambrose filtered through the strong guard of soldiers and police with his bouquet for the president.

"Twelve, policeman, for ve president," he countered, holding out flowers whenever he was halted by members of the guard. It was his password.

Thus he gained entrance to the East room, where few had the opportunity to enter. Soldiers, with fixed bayonets, stood guard—as motionless as statues.

Midst the flowers of respect sent by a sorrowing world, Ambrose placed his offering—the single and concentrated offering from the childhood of the land.

"Rest in peace" was scribbled in his own youthful scrawl on the attached card.

It was a small boy's epitaph for his dead chief.

SHOPLIFTERS FINED $75 IN COURT

Grace A. McCurdy of Saugus and Mary D. Tooney of Leominster pleaded guilty in district court this morning to a charge of larceny. They were arrested on a charge of shoplifting at Chalfoux's store.

After listening to the testimony Judge Knight fined them $75 each and gave them three weeks in which to pay, on security offered by a friend.

George Lannigan and Patrick Boredeau, charged with drunkenness, were found guilty and given a suspended sentence of one year to the state farm, with a warning by the court against further offenses.

Leo P. Connors and William B. McInnis, charged with creating a disturbance in Keith's theatre on the evening of Sunday, Nov. 4, necessitating their removal by the officer on duty there, produced a long string of witnesses with a rather disconnected account of the happenings of the evening in question. The case was placed on file.

LOWELL'S MIDWAY TO CONTINUE AS BEFORE

There is little possibility that the operation of wheels of chance at the July 4th midway on the South common will be interfered with, according to the report of Supt. John Kernan of the park department, who attended a meeting of the Massachusetts Agricultural fair association in Worcester yesterday at which this question was thrashed out.

The main difficulty, according to Supt. Kernan, is to define where a game of skill ends and a game of chance begins. Members of the state constabulary who were present yesterday paid the Lowell midway the compliment of being the biggest and best operated in the state, and Col. Foote, head of the state constabulary, stated that in his opinion the midway games could be well taken care of in the future by Supt. Kernan, the park commissioner, and the police as they have been in the past.

About 50 members of the association were present representing such fairs as held in Brockton, Springfield and Marshfield. Arthur P. Evans of Worcester said that he sent one of the Worcester fair concessionaires to Col. Foote to ask him why wheels could be operated at the Lowell midway. Col. Foote is said to have replied that he was not interested in what happened in Lowell as that could be well attended to by the police of the city.

Air Violation of Treaty and Would Plunge Germany Deeper Into Mire

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press) Indications are multiplying that England and France are approaching the parting of the ways on the question of how to deal with Germany.

France's threatened penalties against Germany, if Berlin does not recede from its position on the extradition of the former crown prince and the re-establishment of full allied military control in Germany, are declared in government circles here to be wholly unacceptable to England.

These penalties are understood to be: Seizure of more railroads east of the occupied area, which would probably

Completely Equipped Reinforced Concrete Condensation and Filtration System Now Under Construction One of Most Important Mill Projects of Year

One of the most important textile mill projects calling for installation of new production methods to meet modern industrial requirements, has just been started on the large open area of ground immediately adjoining the plant of the Massachusetts Mohair Plush Co. in Western ave.

A latest model, completely equipped condensation and filtration plant, long required by the company, and calling for an estimated expenditure of more than

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE PLANS ACTION AGAINST COAL MEN

Atty. General Daugherty so Notifies Cong. John Jacob Rogers in Reply to Lowell Representative's Request For Searching Inquiry of Anthracite Field Conditions

Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty in a letter received today by Congressman John Jacob Rogers indicates that the U. S. department of justice is on the warpath against the alleged conspiracy in the Pennsylvania coal fields to mulct the public by price manipulation of anthracite coal.

"The whole anthracite situation now is being given the most careful attention by the department of justice," Attorney General Daugherty asserts in his communication, which is a reply to one from Congressman Rogers calling for a searching inquiry into the existence of the conspiracy and for drastic action against the conspiracy if found to exist.

"The opinion seems to be quite prevalent that the Pennsylvania anthracite situation is thoroughly examined would reveal a conspiracy in violation of the Sherman law, or some other federal statute among the coal

KING GEORGE ACTING ON ADVICE OF CABINET DISSOLVES PARLIAMENT

Speech of Prorogation Brings Session to End—Preparation for General Election—King Discusses Reparations, Japanese Disaster and Relations With U. S.

LONDON, Nov. 16 (by the Associated Press)—King George, acting on the advice of his cabinet, this morning dissolved parliament in preparation for the general elections to be held Dec. 6. Parliament reassembles on Dec. 20.

The king's prorogation speech was as follows: "My lords, and members of the house of commons, I have the honor to announce to you that parliament is dissolved."

"My government recently initiated negotiations aiming at the settlement of this question. A serious situation has developed in Germany which is being given the most careful attention by the department of justice," Attorney General Daugherty asserts in his communication, which is a reply to one from Congressman Rogers calling for a searching inquiry into the existence of the conspiracy and for drastic action against the conspiracy if found to exist.

"The opinion seems to be quite prevalent that the Pennsylvania anthracite situation is thoroughly examined would reveal a conspiracy in violation of the Sherman law, or some other federal statute among the coal

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—The price of coal was the subject of a conference of the American Academy of Political and Social Science which opened here today. Addresses by political economists, labor leaders, coal operators, government officials and experts were on the program. The bituminous industry was the topic for discussion at the opening session and the anthracite situation will be taken up tonight with Gov. Pinchot as one of the speakers.

SEVEN KILLED IN R. R. SMASH

EARTH TREMORS RECORDED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Earth tremors of sharp intensity were recorded on the Georgetown university seismograph last night beginning at 11:33 p. m. The disturbance which continued until midnight, was estimated by Director Tondorf of the university observatory to have centered about 1600 miles from Washington. It appeared, he said, that it might have been within the United States.

WILL FIGHT TWO-MAN CARS

Eastern Mass. St. Railway Executives Strongly Favor One-Man Operation

Say Change Would Mean Higher Fares and Curtailment of Service

The Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway corporation is giving for the day. Representatives of the transportation system are diligently preparing to combat the latest movement on the part of Greater Boston commercial organizations and various municipal and legislative powers, who have announced that comprehensive plans are now in the making for one of the liveliest campaigns for legislative enactment that would compel the Eastern corporation to return to the two-man car system.

That the Eastern corporation will stoutly defend its present position in the handling of one-man cars and fight the petitioners is an assured fact.

A formal revealing statement has just been issued to the press relative for public consumption by Fred A. Cummings, publicity representative of the company. The statement has the endorsement of the corporation executives.

The statement says: "All employees of this (the Eastern) company are being informed that if this company were to be compelled to operate only two-man cars, it would necessitate the immediate restoration of the universal lowest cash fare, the abandonment of interurban lines and the discontinuance of many city lines on this system."

Publicity Man Cummings, in a further and quite extended statement covering the one-man car situation, fares, etc., says:

"As this issue may be the subject of prolonged discussion, I presume you will be interested to know that one-man car operation was started on this road in April, 1920, on the Mattapan line of the Hyde Park district, and between that date and Sept. 30, 1923, its scope was increased until up to the latter date we have operated 55,845,819 miles with one-man cars."

"Almost coincident with the introduction of one-man cars the public trustees but then there in all divisions on the Eastern Massachusetts street railway reduced rate, punch-card tickets. The number of rides on this reduced rate ticket ranges from 12 to certain interurban zones up to 20 in the city of Fall River. By the use of these tickets assuming, if one could, that there would have been the same number of riders on a 10-cent cash basis—there has been a saving to the car riders of approximately $10,000,000 during the nearly five years of public control."

"Another point in favor of the one-man car which is very frequently lost sight of, is that the accident reports are much improved, especially with respect to boarding and alighting accidents."

Manager Maurice E. McCormick of the local division said briefly, in an interview, that he approved the Cummings statement as printed. He declared that any campaign to return to the two man passenger car control system on the street railway lines ought to fail, because the present one-man system has been a life-saver thus far. As Mr. Cummings intimates, according to the present method of handling passenger traffic would result in tremendously higher costs and necessitate, as alleged above, the discontinuance of numerous useful transportation lines on all divisions that today do not make an actual profit even under present methods of control and operation.

Here's an Idea for a Chafing Dish Supper

One hostess has gained an enviable reputation for her chafing dish suppers by serving Arlington Sausage with Arlington eggs scrambled.

She always chooses Arlington Sausage because it is always dependable, fresh and wholesome, and always has the same fine flavor. It is made fresh daily of sweet, tender pork cut from choice corn-fed porkers, chopped—not ground—and blended with finest spices. For a tasty dish that everyone will relish serve Arlington Sausage.

FUNERALS

GALLAGHERS—With solemn and impressive services the funeral of Mrs. Mary (Powers) Gallagher, wife of Charles Gallagher and a well known resident of Centralville for many years, took place this morning at 9 o'clock from her home, 117 Methuen street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends, including a large number from Skaneateles Falls, N. Y., Boston and Lawrence. Persons prominent in the city's official life were among those who paid their final respects.

The long cortege, headed by two automobiles filled with flowers, proceeded to St. Michael's church, where at 10 o'clock a solemn high funeral mass was celebrated by Rev. James F. Lynch, assisted by Rev. Thomas J. Haughey as deacon and Rev. John J. Shaw, the pastor, as sub-deacon. The choir under the direction of Miss Margaret Griffin sang the Gregorian chant. The solemn words of the mass were read by Rev. Thomas J. Haughey and Rev. John J. Shaw. The funeral services were in charge of Rev. James F. Lynch, assisted by Rev. Thomas J. Haughey and Rev. John J. Shaw. The funeral services were in charge of Rev. James F. Lynch, assisted by Rev. Thomas J. Haughey and Rev. John J. Shaw.

MURPHY—The funeral of John Murphy took place this morning at 9 o'clock from his late home, 42 Union street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The funeral services were in charge of Rev. James F. Lynch, assisted by Rev. Thomas J. Haughey and Rev. John J. Shaw. The funeral services were in charge of Rev. James F. Lynch, assisted by Rev. Thomas J. Haughey and Rev. John J. Shaw.

WILSON—The funeral of Catherine Wilson took place yesterday afternoon from the rooms of Undertakers Chas. H. McElroy's Sons. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery where committal prayers were read by Rev. Joseph A. Curtin of St. Patrick's church.

DACEY—The funeral of Mrs. Alice

The C.M.A.C. was represented by the following delegation: Joseph P. Yette, Alphonse Fortier, Onesime Tremblay and Raoul Landry. Attending the mass were several clergymen of St. Jeanne d'Arc school. There were many floral and spiritual offerings. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Leon Lamotte, O.M.I. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers Amedee Archambault and Sons.

FUNERAL NOTICES

JALBERT—Died Nov. 15, Mrs. Mary J. Jalbert. Funeral will take place on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. H. McElroy, 14 Loring street. Burial will take place in St. Patrick's cemetery. The funeral arrangements are in charge of Undertakers O'Connell & Fay.

HOPKINS—Died in this city, Nov. 15, at 175 Westford street, Charles P. Hopkins. Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Undertaker Hiram C. Brown, 14 Loring street. Friends invited to attend. Burial private.

MANING—Died Nov. 16, at his home, 228 Fletcher street, John Manning. The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon from the home, and a mass of requiem will be sung at St. Patrick's church, the date to be announced later. The burial will be in St. Patrick's cemetery under the direction of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

QUELLETTE—Died in this city November 16, at 2 Mapleview avenue, Mrs. Josephine (Charlette) Quellette. The funeral will take place Monday morning at 8 o'clock from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dorinda Barras, 2 Mapleview avenue. A solemn high funeral mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock at St. Louis church. Friends are invited to attend. Burial in St. Joseph's cemetery. Undertakers Amedee Archambault and Sons in charge.

STOCKS—Funeral services for Mrs. Etta M. Stocks will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at her home, 141 Parkview avenue. Friends invited without further notice. Burial private. John A. Weinbeck funeral director in charge.

DEATHS

HIGGINS—Mrs. Della Higgins, formerly of Chelmsford Centre, died this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Higgins, 56 Chambers street. She leaves to mourn her loss, besides her husband, David Higgins, two daughters, Mrs. Edward Higgins and Mrs. James Morris; one son, John Higgins; two sisters, Miss Margaret Norton and Mrs. Julia Dolan; four grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

HALSTEAD—John R. Halstead, a former resident of this city, passed away Thursday at his home, Highland park, New Brunswick, N. J., aged 59 years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Pannie A. Halstead of New Brunswick; one brother, Lieutenant James W. Halstead of the Lowell fire department; three sisters, Miss Martha J. Halstead of Hartford, Conn., Mrs. Ella Clark and Mrs. Emma Manning of this city; and two sisters, Mrs. Catherine Hoar and Miss Josephine Manning, both of Worcester.

STOCKS—Mrs. Etta M. Stocks, widow of the late Harry Stocks, for many years circulation manager of the Courier-Citizen Newspaper Co., died yesterday at the age of 85 years. Mrs. Stocks is survived by one son, Carl W. Stocks of Brooklyn, and by two daughters, Mrs. Violet (Stocks) Proctor and Miss Esther H. Stocks; one grandson, Richard Proctor, all of Lowell; one brother, Raymond L. Ramsdell of New York and a sister, Mrs. Arville H. Cheyne of Cambridge. She was a member of the First Baptist church.

HOPKINS—Charles P. Hopkins, who was established in business at 815 Bridge street for a period of about 12 years, died suddenly yesterday morning at the home of Mrs. Etta A. Jacobs, 175 Westford street, aged 74 years, 7 months and 7 days. He leaves one sister, Mrs. O. D. Parker of Derby, Vt. The body was removed to the rooms of Undertaker Hiram C. Brown, 14 Loring street.

SARGENT—Edward B. Sargent, a veteran employee of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., in this city, and a prominent member of the Eliot Union Congregational church of which he was a deacon for the past 23 years, died last night at his home, 35 Norcross street, aged 68 years. Mr. Sargent had been in the employ of

In loving memory of Jesse H. Codding, who died Nov. 16, 1922. One precious to our hearts has gone. The voice we loved is stilled. The place made vacant in our home, Can never more be filled. ## NAVY CLUB MEETING

The Lowell Navy club will meet this evening at 7.30 in the annex of the high school to consider the question of turning out to greet Admiral Benson, on the occasion of his visit to this city to address the League of Catholic Women, and also the matter of a smoker in the near future. All members are requested to be present.

ZOO ANIMALS GO TO WINTER QUARTERS

All of the animals at the Fort Hill park zoo, with the exception of the bears and deer, were moved to their winter quarters in the department stables on Lenox street this morning. With the exception of the Himalayan goat, all went peacefully. The goat, however, is inclined to be ugly and stubborn. From 6 o'clock this morning until 9.50 the goat was chased around its enclosure and even after being caught, continued to struggle against being removed from the park. What the men had to say about the goat is unprintable but one man stated decisively that he hoped it would be dead or turned before another winter came along.

Since the outbreak of the World war there have been 32 political assassinations.

RED SCHOOLHOUSE DOWN, BUT NOT OUT

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 16.—The "Little red schoolhouse" may be "down" but it is not "out." Eight residents of the eighth school district of Winchester, near Winsted, this state, have filed a certificate with the state secretary here as "The Little Red Schoolhouse association of Winchester, Inc." The purpose of the incorporation as stated is "to preserve and maintain the eighth district school of Winchester as a permanent memorial."

PAPERS SERVED ON CITY FATHERS

Summonses were served today on Mayor John J. Donovan and members of the city council demanding their presence in the supreme court on Dec. 4 to answer a writ of certiorari in the case of Patrick Ryan and Patrick Donohue vs. John J. Donovan, mayor of Lowell, et al. This case has to do with the city council's closing of Worthen street and the plaintiffs' demands that a rehearing on this matter be given.

To the Voters of Ward 4

I most sincerely thank the voters for the splendid endorsement given me at the primaries and would ask their support at the election on December 4. I will endeavor now as in the past to perform the duties devolving upon me as Councilman from Ward 4.

MADMAN WHO SLEW FOUR FLEES

Leonard Portano Takes to Woods at Kelliber, Minn., With Posse in Pursuit

Murdered Parents of Sweetheart, His Rival and Deputy Sheriff

KELLIBER, Minn., Nov. 16.—A madman, slayer of four, is fleeing through the north woods before a posse.

Leonard Portano, 33, yesterday slew Mr. and Mrs. John Sanders, of whose 16-year-old daughter, Myrtle, he was enamored; Oscar Timmy, 30, farmer, and sutor of the girl, and J. A. Wilson, marshal of this village and deputy sheriff, who sought to arrest him. Before fleeing the murderer went to a timber cutting plant he operated and left a signed confession with a list of the dead.

Early yesterday Timmy and Portano engaged in an altercation over Myrtle, during which Portano shot Timmy through the leg. Timmy came eight miles from the farm where the shooting occurred to this village, had his wounds dressed, and reported the case to Marshal Wilson.

While Timmy was gone, Portano went to the Sanders home and shot dead the mother of his sweetheart. Upon leaving the Sanders home, he met Mr. Sanders, took him to a nearby cabin, bound him to a bedpost, and shot his head off.

Near this village, Portano met Marshal Wilson, who had left to arrest him for shooting Timmy, and shot the officer dead. Next he encountered Timmy, who was going to the village to learn what had been done towards arresting Portano for wounding him, and again Portano's pistol fired a fatal bullet, Timmy falling dead in the highway.

Although Myrtle Sanders is missing, it is stated she was not harmed or kidnapped by the desperado. It is believed she is at the home of friends.

The killer had been avoided by local people because of his hasty temper. He recently was before the grand jury as a result of a controversy with his brother, his only known relative. The grand jury returned no indictment, however, and the nature of the case was not disclosed.

IMPERSONATION OF DRY AGENT CHARGE

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 16.—William J. Scott, former reserve police officer, was arrested early today on a federal warrant charging him with impersonating a federal prohibition agent. It is alleged that he visited a local storekeeper and attempted to extort money after representing himself as a prohibition officer. The money was refused and J. H. Bell, the storekeeper, reported the incident.

DELVE FURTHER INTO RECORD OF WALTON

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press)—The senate court of impeachment, delved further today into the pardon and parole record of Gov. J. C. Walton in hearing the charge that the executive abused his clemency powers to provide lucrative fees for his political supporters and friends.

The board of prosecution announced it would present additional evidence to show that attorneys in many instances, collected thousands of dollars for obtaining clemency for their clients. Wholesale pardons and paroles were issued, it is charged, in some cases over the protests of county officials and numerous other individuals and even before the defendant had been convicted.

PROTECTIVE SMASHES INTO TOURING CAR

While answering an alarm of fire early last night apparatus of Protective Company No. 1 collided in Merrimack street with an automobile registered in the name of James H. O'Neill of 675 Wilder street.

No one was seriously injured. The fire apparatus was sent to the Sawyer carriage shop for repairs while the touring car was badly wrecked and required towing from the scene of the accident.

SWISS CITIZENS LEAVE GERMANY

BERNE, Nov. 16.—About 40,000 Swiss citizens who are residents in Germany, are leaving that country because of the political and economic situation. Most of them are returning home. The Swiss authorities are making extensive plans for their assistance.

That Hang-on Cough Must Go

Home Made Cough Mixture Best of All for the Cough That Sticks

Make It Yourself In Two Minutes

The coughing season is on and every home should have a supply of the best cough remedy to be had, and as you can make this supremely excellent cough mixture yourself why pay high prices for the common kind.

Get from any druggist one ounce of Parment (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one-half pint—that's all there is to it.

Then when any member of the family starts coughing or catches cold in chest or head, or has acute catarrh, you are prepared as you should be.

And the children love to take it. With speed almost beyond belief this home made cough mixture stops the toughest hang-on cough, and all because it is there is a substance (two cents for ordinary cough syrups) that immediately covers the membrane like a soothing, healing poultice, and blessed relief comes at once.

And you should also bear in mind that any remedy that overcomes catarrh, partially or wholly, is bound to be of benefit to those who are troubled with head noises and catarrhal deafness. Get Parment and get better.—Adv.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief For Acid Indigestion

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to retain food are in reality the result of too much acid in the stomach. Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of Bisulphate of Magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antacid, such as Bisulphate of Magnesia which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bisulphate of Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—Adv.

of cement, the Walker workmen starting the "filler" work of extreme thickness in the space measuring 95 feet long and 40 feet wide.

An immense amount of steel rods is to be used in the foundation work of cement. These were being placed in position this morning. About 25 workmen are now engaged on the construction job, and today seven carpenters and 10 extra laborers were added to the force of huskies working on the new filtration plant on all four sides.

Foreman Ed Appleton, not a heavy-weight in size or tonnage, but one of the smartest labor crew leaders in the Lowell construction world and Mr. Walker's right hand man on this new filtration plant creation, declares that if the weather holds good from now on, the entire plant will be completed and ready for use by Dec. 1.

The system to be installed in the new filtration plant is one never before attempted in Lowell and is guaranteed to give the mill workers water of purest quality at all times winter and summer, that has long been desired at the plant.

Water comes from the canalway just beyond the industrial plant, and while the usual filters have always taken care of the water used in the cleaning and dyeing processes in vogue at the Mohair factory, there has been occasional trouble during the late winter and spring runs, with water from the muddy, riled canalway being too dirty to "run clear" at important factory operating periods.

The decision to install a complete home plant for condensing and filtering the canal waters, was made some months ago, ground being shaken out and plans called for. The blue prints, made by Contractor Walker show a new water-condensing layout and a series of continuous filter systems before reaching the final outlets that no other manufacturing concern in the New England can equal at the present time, according to filtration experts who are in town this week to watch the beginning of the Mohair job.

BANKRUPTCY ACTION
AGAINST GOV. McCRAE

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 16.—Added impetus was given the bankruptcy proceedings against Gov. McCrae in federal court here as the result of an estimate by the creditors' committee in charge of the executive's property made public last night, which placed his equities in all the assets at only $8727.45.

The executive in turning his assets over to the committee for administration for the benefit of his creditors, had expressed the opinion that after all creditors whose claims aggregate about $2,000,000 were paid off, he would still

Action by the creditors, as the result of the committee's valuation which was made after an investigation of the properties, probably will await the outcome of the bankruptcy proceedings, it was said last night.

Harry C. Sheridan, federal court referee in the bankruptcy proceedings, said the estimate of the governor's equity in his property would not affect his conduct in the case. He added, however, that establishment of the executive's real equity in his property might materially affect the outcome of the hearing.

NO SMOKING OR BARE KNEES AT VASSAR

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Vassar girls do not smoke and knees are only bare when they play hockey, according to Dr. Henry Noble McCracken, president of the college, here attending the annual convention of Vassar alumnae. The convention opened today with several hundred former students at the girls' school in attendance. Educational and social problems growing out of the attempt to extend education to the modern college girl, are to receive chief attention of the alumni, here from all parts of the country.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents

THE STRAND
Blanche Sweet has in Goldwyn's screen version of "In the Palace of the King," now playing at The Strand the role Miss Allen essayed on the stage, and it offers her one of the biggest opportunities. You will admire and applaud her work, as well as the efforts of the others in an all-star cast. The picture and story is a remarkable achievement in screen story.

The Charlie Chaplin classic, "The Vagabond" in an added feature that every one will surely enjoy, while the Weekly and musical numbers always add to the worth of the program. Don't miss this big bill. Laura La Plante in "Crooked Alley," a Boston Blackie story is the second feature.

B. F. KELTH'S THEATRE

Get your tickets in good season for the wonderfully interesting and diversified program of entertainment at the B. F. Kelth theatre, today, or tomorrow. George McKay and Otis Ardine, with their bag full of entertainment tricks, hold up the top honors of the bill, with smiling Bill Hutton in a nightgown second position. The latter is one of the sweetest tappers on the boards today, and his comedy isn't moth eaten. Characterization creeps into the turn of Butler & Parker, which also distinguishes this bill, while the Four Juggling Nelsons are premieres of the twirling hoops. They are also exceptional diabolists experts. Others on the bill are Dorothy Wahl, singer, and Kerr & Ensign, openers of the carnival of fun. "The Midnight Alarm" is the week's big picture feature.

RIALTO THEATRE

"Main Street" opened yesterday at the Rialto theatre. It is a splendid success with a punch, the picture of the year, one could say without any exaggeration. Whether it was the masterly acting of Florence Vidor and Monte Blue, or the exceptional direction of Harry Beaumont, or the sheer strength of Sinclair Lewis' story, is hard to say. But what can be said is that these elements all combine into the making of a picture that one will have to go far to equal. "Main Street" is the story of Carol Kennicott and her brave but pathetic efforts to make Gopher Prairie a better place to live in. The inhabitants do not sympathize with her, even her husband, Doctor Kennicott, being too engrossed in his medical practice to further his wife's plans. In despair, she finds her only ally in a young idealist. Two things happen; tongues begin wagging maliciously, and Erik finds himself so hopelessly in love with Carol that he wants her to elope. These situations bring on the dramatic climax to the picture. In the supporting cast you will find Noah Beery, Louise Fazenda, Harry Myers, Robert Gordon and Otis Harlan.

Leo Maloney in "Here's Your Man," a splendid western story, a good story, a comedy, entitled "Rent Day," and a Pathe News are also included in the program.

THE JEWEL THEATRE

Rosinold Denny has done one fine piece of work this season in "The Abyss and the Ice." This vehicle will head the program at the Jewel today and tomorrow.

row. It's the story of a prize fighter who falls in love with a salon of society, to be later thrown over—but love conquers at the end and everything ends happily. Ethel Clayton in "The Man Hunt" will star in the counter-attraction, a modern story of man hunting as practiced by the financially embarrassed aristocracy. Chester Connell and Mack Swain will also be shown in a new comedy, and an altogether delightful entertainment has been arranged. An amateur show will be given tonight.

THE ROYAL THEATRE

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Gay Broadway in its gayest hours is realistically pictured in "The Gold Diggers," which will close its engagement at the Merrimack Square theatre Saturday evening. The stage and its chorus girls, fluffy dresses and costumes, vivid makeup and the hustle and bustle of dressing room combine to make the production one of the most entertaining shown in Lowell in months.

The picture follows closely the stage play of the same name and stars Hope Hampton, a pretty and capable star. Throughout the production the eye is constantly delighted by luxurious settings and the soft atmosphere of Spanish dancing.

The second feature is "The Exiles," starring John Gilbert in a screen interpretation of Richard Harding Davis' notable story. The management announces "Woman Proof," starring popular Thomas Meighan in one of the most successful productions of his career, for Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the coming week.

PUBLIC SERVICE BOARD
IN ROUTINE SESSION

A routine meeting of the board of public service was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in city hall with all members of the board present.

Following a short discussion concerning the city's right to enter certain property formerly owned by the Pevey Foundry Co. and now the property of the Saco-Lowell in School street, for the purpose of cleaning a sewer, Chairman Dennis J. Murphy moved and the board affirmed his motion that the work be begun at the once and that the legal question be settled later if necessary. This matter was referred to the city solicitor at a previous meeting.

A letter was read from Councilor Arthur B. Chadwick concerning the location of catch basins on Highland avenue and repairs in Stevens street. This matter was referred to the city engineer.

A letter from Postmaster Xavier A. Dellele requesting repairs to the sidewalk and edgestones in front of the postoffice building was referred to the city engineer and the city solicitor. As the sidewalk was constructed by the federal government and never accepted by the city, there is some doubt as to whether this work should be done by the city.

A recommendation from Michael H. Harrington, of the ash and waste department, concerning the size of ash carts to be purchased was filed. On recommendation of the foreman of the city stables, it was voted that a horse that is now unable to work be shot.

The meeting adjourned at 4:50 o'clock until next Thursday.

WORLD'S LARGEST CABLE

PARIS, Nov. 15.—The world's largest cable, connecting France with the United States, was to have been opened yesterday, but although the American end is finished, the recent severe weather has prevented the cable ship from working on this side of the Atlantic. Two or three more days will be required to complete the line.

HEIRESS FINDS LOVE IN SMALL TOWN FLAT

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Dolores Angell Norris, heiress to the $28,000,000 John W. Gates estate, who married "Les" Norris, a childhood playmate, has found love in a small town apartment preferable to life on her Lake Forest estate and that bequest with its 32 room house filled with rugs, tapestries, antiques and a collection of 48 paintings, is offered for sale. Many articles of furniture already have been sold.

Last spring, Miss Angell announced her engagement to Lester Norris, a boy from her home town, St. Charles, where they both grew up. "Les" was a freelance artist, and the son of the local undertaker.

Friends expected the couple after marriage in Los Angeles, would live in Mrs. Norris' Lake Forest home, but instead a small apartment in St. Charles was rented and the poor artist's bride began housekeeping, doing her own cooking and sewing and having a lot of fun doing it.

Her friends say she has lived up to her promise to be a democratic housewife.

AT VERA CRUZ

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 14.—The strike at Vera Cruz, which has caused a serious tieup at that port to the great inconvenience of business in central Mexico, will probably be called off next Monday when a start will be made at moving the large quantities of freight now on the wharves at Vera Cruz and unloading the 18 steamers in the harbor. Maritime workers and railwaymen's organizations whose dispute led to the tieup, have reached an agreement on the main points at issue, it is reported.

SHE'S LITTLE—BUT REARED A MIGHTY FAMILY
EASTHAM, Nov. 16.—She's little and yellow and only a hen. But there are four big geese on the farm of Edgar E. Rich here who think the world of her. She brought them up from the egg, and puzzling infants they were, too. They grew so fast she couldn't quite figure it out. And she tried so hard to keep them from going in the water—but they just would. It's a familiar sight in these parts to see the four geese walking about with their adopted mother, quacking loudly in apparent answer to her clucks. They're a devoted family.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

ROWING TANK IN CHARLES
CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 16.—As a part of its program for building up a winning crew, Harvard will launch a rowing tank in the Charles river shortly after Thanksgiving day, in which rowing practice will be continued as late as possible this season. The tank, of float, 51 feet long and five and one-half feet wide, will accommodate 16 oarsmen; 8 on the starboard and 8 on the port side. There will be coxswains for each. From a platform between two rows, the work of the men will be directed by the coach.

Advertisers who use The Sun consistently get greater returns on the money invested than through any other Lowell newspaper. There's a reason. The Sun goes into more homes in Lowell and suburbs than any other Lowell paper and ninety per cent of Sun readers read no other Lowell newspaper.

SELF-RELIANT HOME DOCTORS
is what women are called who all over this broad land make their annual collections of roots and herbs, and rely upon recipes which our pioneer mothers found dependable for different family ailments. In one of these recipes, Lydia, Dr. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had its origin and so successful has it proved that there is hardly a city, town or hamlet in America where some woman who has been restored to health by its use does not reside.—Adv.

Well War Veteran Man Recovers Quickly

Suffering From Stomach, Liver and Kidneys Conquered by Drecto

Mr. Alvin W. Stockwell of Brown's block who has lived in Lowell for more than fifty years, who is one of the few veterans of the Civil War still living, says: "For the past ten years I have been crippled by pains and aches. Food that I ate laid in my stomach like lead. Indigestion doubled me up with cramps. Gas bloated my stomach making me belch. Acid risings burned up my insides and made me gasp for breath. I went through this ordeal after every meal that I ate. I felt tired and worn out. I thought I was about at the end of my string. My kidneys bothered me so that I couldn't get a good night's sleep. My sluggish liver clogged up my system, sapping its strength. For ten years I endured this suffering when Drecto came to my rescue. This marvelous remedy has brought me back to life, giving me health and strength. I want everyone who is suffering as I have suffered to take advantage of the wonderful restorative powers of this great remedy." Drecto is being specially introduced by Green's Drug Store and sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

SACRED HEART REUNION TO RUN THREE DAYS

One of the biggest affairs yet attempted by the parishioners of the Sacred Heart will be the parish reunion of three days' duration, which will be held in the school hall on Nov. 21, 22 and 23.

Several committees have been working on the details for the event for many weeks. Every society in the parish, the Children of Mary, Holy Angels, Holy Rosary and Holy Name, are represented by committees under the general direction of John F. Duggan.

The coming affair will mark the first large scale function since Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., became pastor of the church, and every effort will be extended to make it a memorable one.

LOCAL ELKS TO HONOR HENRY SULLIVAN

Members of Lowell lodge of Elks will place a red circle around the date "January 10" on their 1924 calendar for that will be Henry Sullivan night. Lowell members of the antlered herd will on that occasion pay fitting tribute to their illustrious brother who bears the double distinction of being the first American to swim the tortuous English channel and the undisputed champion endurance swimmer of the world.

The committee in charge of the observance is still working on plans that are in the tentative stage. Nothing will be left untaken to make the night one worthy to be emblazoned in the annals of Elklod. A true Elk time is promised and when the word is passed that the committee has been diligently at work on arrangements ever since the first word of Henry's triumph was received here it becomes evident that the occasion will be both a portentous and momentous one.

NEGLECTED TRIMMING

Marabout and ostrich vie with each other for honors as trimmings on negligees of velvet and brocade.

FOR GAY OCCASIONS

SEE THE POINT!

The Sun has by far the largest circulation of any Lowell paper. Ninety per cent of Sun readers do not read any other Lowell newspaper. See the point, Mr. Advertiser?

College women live longer than other women, according to a study made by Myra M. Hulst of the American Red Cross.

GREAT BRITAIN FACES FIERCEST POLITICAL FIGHT IN YEARS

Opposition Parties Feel They Have Deep Grievance
Against Prime Minister for "Playing a Confidence
Trick Upon the Public"—Women Active in Fight

LONDON, Nov. 16.—It is predicted that the coming election will be one of the fiercest political fights seen in Great Britain in modern times. The opposition parties feel they have a deep grievance against the prime minister for "playing a confidence trick upon the public" in conceding his intentions and forcing an unnecessary election. Mr. Baldwin's supporters resent this and warmly defend his "honesty of purpose." Thus a good deal of temper has been injected into the contest at the outset. The decision of the laborites to adhere to a capital levy as the leading feature of their campaign, cannot but be welcome to the other parties as in their view this weakens labor's chances while giving them a valuable argument. Labor, it is also predicted, will suffer from its refusal—now said to be final—to make any arrangement with the liberals with a view to avoiding split votes.

Mr. Lloyd George's fibs in the house of commons yesterday that the ministers were going to the country with tin cans tied to their tails to ask a blank check—an allusion to the proposed preference duty on canned salmon—has taken the fancy of the liberal press and will be heard on many platforms.

The failure of the plans to bring Austen Chamberlain and Lord Birenhead into the government ranks is deplored by those conservatives who think the loss of these statesmen will prove a great injury to the party's cause and is frequently referred to as a split in the very ranks. Women are to take a very large part in the fight as organizers and campaigners, and all parties are likely to receive a large share of their help. Labor in particular, contends that women will win the election, Dr. Phillips asserting that the poll will be a battle of the mothers and housewives against the rise in prices which a tariff would bring.

MacIntyre—Ross
Mr. Archie MacIntyre and Miss Esther Louise Ross were married at the parsonage of the Westminster U. P. church Wednesday evening by the pastor, Rev. J. M. Sped. The couple were attended by Miss Florence Ross as bridesmaid and Mr. Guy Hied as best man. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Lundberg street. Mr. and Mrs. MacIntyre left during the evening on an extended wedding trip and after their return will reside at 8 South avenue.

LEAGUE AND CHURCH

Two Great Instruments of

Peace, Says Rev. Thos. Nightingale

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—The two great instruments for peace are the League of Nations and the church, the Rev. Thomas Nightingale, secretary of the National Free Church Council of Great Britain, said yesterday in an address before the American Council of the World Alliance for International Friendship through the churches.

the speaker. "War smites both. It is anti-Christian. There is a more excellent way—the way of mutual understanding and good will. If two neighbors should dwell together in peace, two nations should dwell together in peace. We have seen what organized butchery could do; let us now try organized brotherhood. That alone can melt mutual hatred into mutual love. International security is not to be found in any other way. Peace is not going to be had by touching a button or waving some magic wand. It can only come by changing the ideals of nations from ideals that are warlike to ideals industrial, economic, moral and spiritual.

"My Christianity tells me two things: first of all, that life is a precious thing—all life, and if that is so, then I must seek man's good and never his ill. There are two great instruments to effect a warless war: '1.—There is the political instrument of the League of Nations. We Britishers are committed to that. I do not think at this time of day you can set up another. It holds the field. It has shown its efficiency. It has settled several individual disputes. It has prevented fighting and in one case possible invasion. It has dealt also with certain humanitarian objects. It is trying to contribute to the improvement of labor conditions. The alternative to the league is the old method of diplomacy, which did not avoid war. It is better to stumble on a right road than to pursue a wrong road and get lost. But the league needs to be clothed with ampler powers, and greater authority. '2.—And this is where the second instrument is needed, viz, the force of the Christian churches. It must have the moral backing of the people. The covenant of the league needs and must have the combined will of the nations. Fifty-two nations are committed to it. The tragedy is that America is still undecided as to how she can best cooperate in this great enterprise. Bu-

LOWELL BOYS ON TRIP THROUGH DIXIELAND

Flivvering gaily through Dixieland, Ralph Palmer of the Cross Awning & Sign Co., accompanied by a close companion, Paul J. Halstead, an employee of the Lowell Electric Light corporation, find time while stopping at numerous points en route to the sunny south to send postal cards back home to Lowell friends.

One interesting news item was that the highways down south are getting smoother and smoother right along and at no point on the flivver journey thus far have the Lowell travelers encountered any roads so raw "as the first one we hit when we left Lowell for Worcester and Springfield via West Chelmsford." The boys intended undoubtedly to convey a deep meaning in that reference to a certain highway winding away from the outskirts of old Lowell.

The travelers are bound for Miami, Fla., with way stops at Freeman, S. C. and Savannah, Ga. Halstead is understood to be prepared to soon join the great Stone & Webster public corporation interests, with good opportunities for future work in the south.

PELHAM FIGHTS TO RETAIN CAR SERVICE

Hudson, N.H., town hall was crowded with citizens of the village and surrounding rural communities, Tuesday, when the New Hampshire public service commission conducted a hearing on the proposed abandonment of service by the Massachusetts Northeastern Street Railway Co. on all of its lines west of Point A station in the town of Salem. Many Pelham residents were present because the move on the part of the corporation to discontinue the street railway service described, would cut Pelham off from street railway communication with outside communities.

The corporation heads claim they had no surplus money to spend for road repairs. The cost would be more than $30,000, it was stated. Representatives of Hudson and Pelham schools declared that the company ought to raise fares enough to cover the additional expense. It was believed that citizens would be glad to pay a little more to have the transportation service continued.

Plans Action Against Lowell Men

operators, or between the coal operators on the one hand and the coal miners on the other, or both," Congressman Rogers declared in his inquiry to the attorney general. "There is, I think, a general feeling that the federal government has been, or at least has seemed, impotent in this very important matter. Even if the basis for an indictment is not made out by the investigation I believe that the investigation itself would have a salutary effect."

Following is Attorney General Daugherty's reply: "Your favor of the 6th instant in reference to the anthracite situation in Pennsylvania has been received. I beg to advise you that certain features of this industry have been carefully investigated and proper legal action is now being prepared and will be taken very soon."

"The matter of a general conspiracy among the coal operators has been under investigation for many years and an equity suit which was brought alleging such a monopoly was unsuccessful (United States vs. Reading Co., 226 U. S., 324) since then the government has been successful in its efforts to divorce certain carriers from their anthracite holdings (United States vs. Delaware, Lackawanna & Western R.R., 238 U. S., 316; United States vs. Reading Company, 253 U. S., 26; United States vs. Lehigh Valley R. R. Co., 264 U. S., 255). The whole anthracite situation now is being given the most careful attention by the department of justice, and we would be glad to receive any information which may come to your attention tending to establish a violation of the federal laws." Commenting on the situation today, Congressman Rogers said, "Governor Pinchot, according to yesterday's newspapers, has invited 29 governors of anthracite-consuming states to a conference to consider a program of federal legislation designed to reduce fuel prices. Governor Pinchot would do well to put his own house in order. One of the elements in the high cost of anthracite is the Pennsylvania percentage tax upon every ton of anthracite which is mined in the state. If Governor Pinchot sincerely wanted to scale down the prices of anthracite to their lowest level he would advocate the repeal of the law imposing this tax. This he has not done. "And now he says that a conference of governors should be called to consider congressional legislation. This is all very well, although personally, as a representative in congress, I shall prefer to follow the recommendations of President Coolidge and of the U. S. coal commission rather than those of Governor Pinchot, chief executive of the state having the anthracite monopoly. As a matter of fact, it is not surprising to take steps in this direction."

EDUCATION WEEK

Everybody is, or should be, interested in education and in all the institutions provided for the education of the masses. Accordingly it is expected that Education Week, November 18-24, will be observed with the serious purpose of improving our schools, aiding the teachers and encouraging parents to give their children the best opportunities possible for obtaining an education that will properly equip them for the battle of life.

The Bureau of Education at Washington will co-operate in the observance of Education Week with the American Legion and the National Education Association. This is the fourth consecutive year in which a week has been set apart for the purpose of emphasizing the importance of improving the educational facilities throughout the nation. Last year's observance exceeded that of previous years in the scope of the observance and the obvious advantages resulting therefrom. Hereafter, the observance was held early in December but at the suggestion of the late President Harding the time was changed to November in order not to interfere with the preparation for Christmas.

As was the case last year, each day in the week will be set aside for the purpose of stressing some particular phase of education which is national in significance. It is proposed to observe on the various days of the week different subjects as follows: Sunday, "For God and Country"; Monday, "The American Constitution"; Tuesday, "Patriotism"; Wednesday, "School and Teacher"; Thursday, "Literacy"; Friday, "The Community"; Saturday, "Physical Education." Of course these suggested topics do not preclude the discussion of any other phase of education that may be considered necessary in any particular locality.

In most cities there is decided need for better school buildings or new buildings to prevent crowding in the older structures. There are few cities that can boast of better school buildings than those of our own city. We have just completed a magnificent high school that will, doubtless, meet all the requirements of this community for many years to come. The establishment of the junior high schools throughout the city may call for some new buildings and these must be gradually supplied. The most pressing demand at the present time, is for a new Edison school and the school committee has recommended the construction of a twenty-room building for that district.

Public sentiment seems to favor the old site or one adjoining on the common. This does not imply that any additional space is to be taken from the common, but we understand it to mean either that the new building will be placed on the site of the old or upon one of equal area mid-way between South and Thorneike streets. There should be no difficulty in erecting on such a site a building entirely adequate to meet all the needs of that district. Indeed it might be a mistake to erect any large building there for the reason that St. Peter's parish is expected soon to provide a new school building that may draw largely from the public schools in the vicinity.

Appreciation of Teachers

The observance of Education Week should include some action looking to a proper appreciation of the teachers of the city and their responsible duties. It is generally the case that the teachers seldom get the credit they deserve for their arduous labors, whereas they are criticized for the merest trifles when anything seems to go wrong or when parents think their children are not making sufficient progress or not properly treated at school. In many instances, the teachers are unjustly criticized by parents who do not take the trouble to visit the teachers and learn the true conditions. It is a fact also, that while the salaries of teachers are perhaps as high in Lowell as in any similar city, nevertheless, there will always be found some teachers who are not receiving the full amount to which they are entitled. Sometimes this results from favoritism, sometimes from inadvertence, and at others from the stingiest appropriations.

School costs have increased naturally in the same proportion as the cost of all similar activities. Building material is much higher, so is labor, and these factors entering into the cost of living, make it necessary that teachers' salaries should be increased at least in the same proportion as the purchasing power of the dollar has declined since 1916. Increased costs usually go with increased efficiency, but unfortunately they too often grow without results. In some communities the cost of education has increased more rapidly than in others because some have become more wealthy than others. The question arises as to the remedy to be applied where school costs have increased more rapidly than the wealth of the community. The matter of an equitable distribution of the taxes enters into this computation and it is often found that the proportion of the taxes expended for education is not nearly as great as it should be.

This is a matter that has engaged the attention of city governments and state legislatures, but without bringing about uniformity of action. The per capita expense of maintaining elementary schools also differs very considerably in the various cities. Lowell in this respect occupies what might be termed the average position, rising neither to extravagance on the one hand nor sinking to parsimony on the other.

It is expected that Lowell will take an active part in the observance of Education Week; and one feature of any such observance in this city should be to bring to public attention the various educational facilities provided for the benefit of the people, the cost of the same, together with presentation of the benefits to be derived by every class of people in this community from taking advantage of the opportunities for educational and technical training provided at great expense by the city and the state for the benefit of our people.

MIDDLESEX NORTH IN 1924

The remarkable success of the autumnal agricultural exhibition and fair held recently in the Auditorium, where the active and progressive members and friends of the historic Middlesex North Agricultural association presented one of the finest free-for-all displays of farm produce ever held in Lowell since the flourishing days of the same aggregation when it held forth on the old Fair grounds on Gorham street, augurs well for the future years. The fact that the exhibits were donated to local charities is another pleasing indication of the spirit of the association.

We are informed that plans are already in the making for the autumn exhibition in 1924, with many new attractions being sought to give impetus to the annual presentation of the farmers' best offerings. A leading feature of next year's exhibition is to be a monster exhibit by the state fisheries and game department, which has promised to offer something worth going many miles to see. There is ample opportunity for this and many other displays of a similar kind in the great Auditorium, and if the Middlesex North members set about the task of securing vitally interesting attractions of this kind, they will be assured of highly profitable results.

This movement will receive the sympathetic support of this community and particularly of the people who would like to see the custom of holding the autumnal agricultural fairs revived on a large scale.

MORE BOY BABIES

We are guided by mysterious forces. One of these is revealed by the government report that, since the war, there has been a decided increase in the number of boy babies born, as compared with the smaller number of girl babies. It is alleged, however, that the death rate among boys is greater than that of girls. This may reverse the situation.

This tendency has been noticed in England as well as America. It supports an ancient theory that wars and epidemics are followed by increases in births of males. Behold Nature replacing the soldiers killed in battle.

FAST TYPEWRITING

The speed typewriting championship of the world goes to Albert Pangora. He wrote 9120 words in an hour, making only 21 errors. The average word has at least six letters, so Pangora hit the keys accurately nearly 60,000 times in an hour—or 1000 times a minute, about 17 a second. Each letter had to be carried to the eye, on to the brain, then telegraphed to the fingertips and thence to the typewriter. Thought is the fastest thing in the universe.

"The most glorious memorial building in the United States" was the expression used by Edward P. Telford, Chicago, former field secretary of the United States chamber of commerce, member of the overseas food commission under Mr. Hoover, in describing our Memorial Auditorium. That is but a confirmation of what was said by Secretary of Labor Davis in describing the same building. It seems that the people of Lowell are only beginning to realize what a treasure of a building they have in the great Auditorium.

Most movies are made to appeal to the 18-year-old intelligence, says Prof. Edward A. Ross of University of Wisconsin. Also true of fiction, sports, games of chance and nearly every form of relaxation or entertainment.

You have noticed how extremely childish the average person becomes when you put a paper carnival hat on him. We hate to be grown up, and we show it when we play.

Berton Bralley's Daily Poem

WINDS

The North Wind is a chill wind,
A shrill wind,
A bold wind,
It whistles of the wintry seas and of the frozen trail;
A strong wind and a cruel, a harsh and bitter cold wind
That calls hard-bitted rovers to battle storm and gale.

The East Wind is a low wind,
A slow wind,
A bland wind,
That whispers of the Orient and murmurs of Cathay,
A mystical and magical, a "Never-Never-Land" wind,
Where age-old peoples guilely drowse the centuries away.

The West Wind is a keen wind,
A clean wind,
A brisk wind,
It calls to blithe adventurers to seek the far frontier;
A "Leap-before-you-look" wind,
A "Never-mind-the-risk" wind,—
The breath of open country and of azure skies and clear.

The South Wind is a shy wind,
A sly wind,
A warm wind,
That breathes of love and laziness where tropic waters fount;
So North or South or East or West,
There always is a charm wind
That makes it hard for wanderers to linger long at home!

Credulous.
They told her she was beautiful:
(She smiled and blushed.)
They praised her hair, her eyes, her lips:
(And her eyes listened.)
They said her hair was like a rose:
(That stirred her blushes.)
For when one hears such things as
Of course one blushes.
Now can it be that their fond eyes
Deceived them?
It mattered not a whit to her.
For she believed them.
—SOMERSETT JOURNAL.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.
Contrary to existent rumors, the old Lowell jail has not been sold. It is still the property of the county. Deacon P. Barlow, county commissioner, visited the rumor of its being sold on the head, stating that there was "nothing to it." Nobody has even set a price upon the building as yet, according to the commissioner, who also stated that the county is anxious to sell.

One of the big hits in the musical show conducted under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society of St. Patrick's parish Wednesday night, was Daniel Brennan, a singer of note and a popular member of Lowell's police force. "Danny" was an old man in the musical show and proved exceptionally clever in pulling away jokers. Last week Dan was appointed a permanent officer and has been doing traffic duty on one of our main streets of late.

Jim Lister, high school football coach is not limited to athletic contests, such as football and basketball. He is a top-notch on the headline as well, and as a rule it requires three figures to write his total score for one strike. He has a curved belt that just gathers the pins together and carries them down in the pit all in a bunch and his eyes for pinpoints is sure as death.

There is sure to be a hard weathering around the Auditorium next Sunday, when Secretary of Labor James Davis is scheduled to lend the honor of his presence to an initiation of a large class of new members into the Loyal Order of Moose. A prominent leader of Moose, as well known as Mr. Davis, always brings out throngs of people who are curious to see even a man who has risen above his fellowmen in some line of endeavor.

New laundry machines for the Laganas Shoe Co. from the United Shoe Machinery company are arriving this week. The machines are all fully assembled and ready to be placed on new belts for immediate use. The Laganas concern has been one of the thickest of Lowell's shoe concerns as it has been the most trying depression. The concern plans to build a new home here in the spring and double its present capacity. It is taking on machinery at this time it will be ready for business in the near future and at the time the new home is ready and at the same time the possibility of a delay in receiving machinery after the new home is erected will in a great measure be avoided.

BASEBALL BAT DROPS BANDIT

Boy Braved Robber's Bullets and Swung Bludgeon—Bandit Dying

Two Yeggs Force Bank Messenger to Admit Them Into Taxi and Take $740

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Two audacious holdup attempts, one successful, were added to New York's crime wave last yesterday, while police spread a dragnet over the city's underworld districts.

The successful robbery was enacted on busy Fifth avenue, when two messengers of the Garfield bank, Fifth avenue and 23rd street, were compelled to admit two robbers into their taxicab and relinquish $740. The bank messengers, who had narrowly escaped a collision with a taxicab, were unable to identify any pictures in the robbers' gallery as those of the perpetrators.

The second holding of the day cast the robber a broken head, smashed by a baseball bat, wielded by a boy who braved the robbers' bullets. The robbers had taken the cash receipts from a little candy store on the lower East Side waterfront and were fleeing when the youth able bodied him and swung the bludgeon. The bandit was reported dying in a hospital.

BANQUET FOR PLANT CHIEF

B. F. Mahoney of Telephone
Co. Given Farewell Dinner
By His Co-Workers

Presentation of Clock One of
Last Night

A farewell banquet was given Benjamin J. Mahoney, recently appointed to the position of plant superintendent of the Boston district, by over 350 friends and fellow workers, last night in Lincoln hall in testimony of the esteem in which they have held him during the period in which he has been district plant chief of the Lowell-Framingham district for the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. Among the guests were representatives from two districts, and included the towns of Concord, Lawrence, Haverhill, Framingham, Marlboro and Milford.

A handsome mahogany hall clock of the grandfather type was presented Mr. Mahoney as a parting gift during the course of the banquet by Thomas H. Delaney, on behalf of the men of the district. He responded to the presentation in fitting terms, thanking all present for the interest they had shown in his welfare, and followed with a speech on his line of work and assurances that he would endeavor to give the same service in his new capacity, as he has given in the old.

The toastmaster, Joseph T. McGirr, opened the program with a few words of welcome and read letters from Mrs. Matthew Jones and General Manager George Dresser of the telephone company regretting their inability to be present, following which he called on C. M. Tasker, general plant manager, who avowed his faith in the selection that has been made of Mr. Mahoney.

During an interlude in the program Miss Ruth Leclair of Concord sang a few popular songs.

Remarks were then made by John

MOTHER!

"California Fig Syrup"

Dependable Laxative for Sick
Baby or Child

Hurry Mother! A teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup" now will thoroughly clean the little bowels and in a few hours you have a well, playful child again. Even if cross, feverish, bilious, constipated or full of cold, children love its pleasant taste.

Tell your druggist you want only the genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother, you must say "California." Refuse any imitation.—Adv.

J. Dolc, international telephone workers' union president, F. E. Tarr, division plant superintendent and H. A. McCoy, superintendent of plant methods and results. There was also singing by James E. Donnelly. The clock was then presented by Mr. Delaney and accepted by Mr. Mahoney after which came the speech of the evening by the latter. In part, Mr. Mahoney said, "What a wonderful company we work for. Year after year it is solving with earnest effort the many perplexing questions that naturally arise between a corporation of such magnitude and its many employees. It is steadily reducing to a minimum, problems of relationship between employer and employee. A problem almost as old as humanity itself."

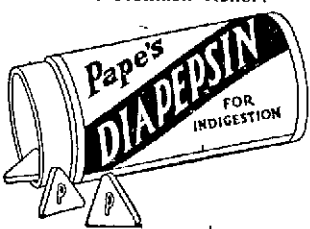

"The Telephone company is a public service corporation. Its stockholders are public investors and the public its patron. Service is the keynote of success. We all play an important part in the performance of service. As a chain is no stronger than its weakest link, so it may be said that our organization in rendering service is dependent upon the loyalty of its most humble employee. I am about to assume enlarged duties and responsibilities. My efforts will avail but little unless they co-ordinate and dovetail with maximum efficiency in other branches of our service. We are all public servants even though our names may not appear on official ballots election day. We can only win public favor by eternal vigilance—good service and square dealings. The public is an exacting taskmaster, but fair."

Today, there is a much healthier

and better mutual understanding between the public and public service corporations than in past years. Both sides have learned much and profited thereby. Mutual confidence is the guiding force. It is no longer possible

ble for agitators to arouse public feeling against a public service corporation elaborating with heated eloquence upon imaginary grievances. The public today is cynical listening to such talk. Facts alone will influence, and they must be based upon truth.

At the conclusion of the speech, either testimonials to Mr. Mahoney's worth and character were given by J. A. Hunnewell, manager of the

Lowell Electric Light Co., and F. E. Sargent, of the Lawrence Gas and Electric Light Co., followed by a recitation by Frank Kelly, and a song by George Carr of Lawrence.

W. A. McCoy, newly appointed successor to Mr. Mahoney, was then called upon and asked for the same measure of co-operation that had existed under his predecessor and promised to put forth his best efforts in his new position. Arthur Wilson, plant chief at Framingham was the final speaker, and the program closed with community singing led by William F. Sadlier.

The committee responsible for the success of the banquet was headed by Thomas H. Delaney, who took occasion last night to thank all for their efforts to put over a good affair. With him the following served: Lowell, V. C. Johnson, secretary and general treasurer; Joseph T. Mc-

Garr, William J. McIntyre, Daniel J. Sullivan and Joseph A. Mahan. Lawrence, Wesley R. Humphrey, John Gooden and Joseph Flanagan. Haverhill, Frank J. Quinn, Charles F. Hamilton, and Frank S. Lovett. Keep the Babies from Catching Cold—Parking Space for Carriages Inside

INDIAN MUSIC THRILLS LARGE AUDIENCE

Charles Wakefield Cadman, noted composer, and Princess Tsianina, Indian

prima donna, played to a capacity house in the Memorial Auditorium last evening. From her first appearance, Princess Tsianina in her native costume made of white leather, her head-band of beads and necklaces of various colorings, won the hearts of her audience with her clear-toned voice, her dignified carriage and deep sense of appreciation of the throng who welcomed her so cordially on her first appearance locally. Her first solo, "Invocation to the Sun God," a harmonized and translated Zuni song by Troyer, typified the great faith which the Red Men had in a Superior Being, and the reverence with which they pleaded for protection both upon themselves and their children. "By the Waters of Minnetonka," a

Sioux melody, was sung with a deep sense of love and belief in nature, portraying the characteristic beliefs of native Indians.

Princess Tsianina's selections were followed by piano renditions by Mr. Cadman. "To a Vanishing Race," composed by himself, expressed the wishes of the Indian race, while "The Wolf Dance" also one of his compositions, depicted a more barbarous trend. "Ho, Ye Warriors," sung by the princess, a Sioux melody, arranged and identified by Charles Wakefield Cadman, portrayed a group of Indian women bidding farewell and Godsend to their men about to go on the warpath.

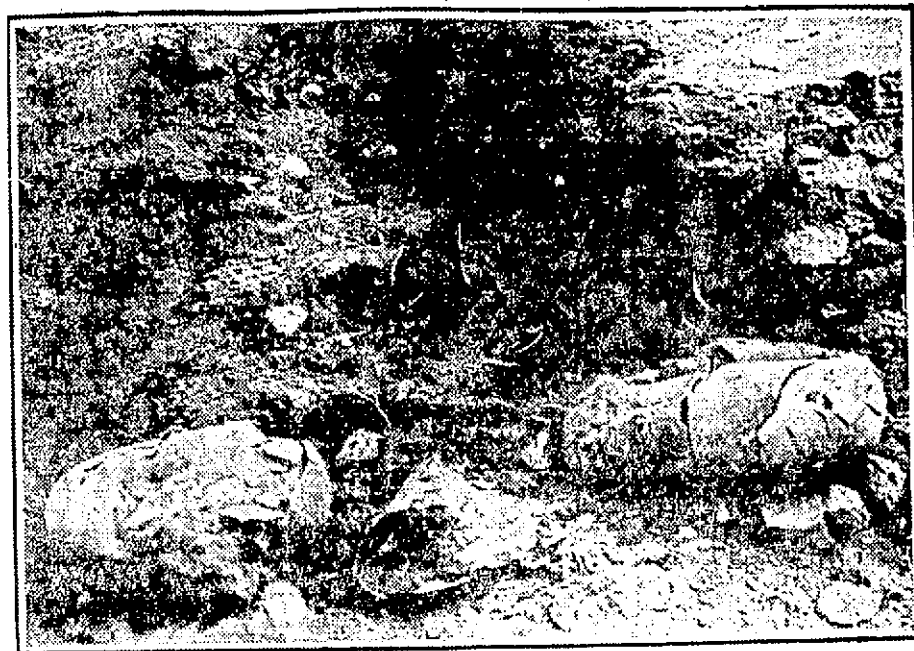

Perhaps the most interesting feature on the program was the playing of selections on the flageolet, an Indian musical instrument, shaped flute-like, containing eight notes, or an octave, and producing a weird, stirring air. The various love songs played upon this instrument by Mr. Cadman, showed that we today are not the originators of syncope or ragtime, as it is called, but that even the Indians in their love melodies, especially, used the stirring of the long and the short note.

"Tell Her My Lodge is Warm," an Ojibway melody, transferred by Mr. Cadman and dedicated to the princess, was one of the many songs, clearly picturing various scenes, the scene in the particular song mentioned being a winter one in the Northwoods. "Tale Moon," another picturesque solo, a soft, dreamy melody, was rendered with the skill of the accomplished artist, by the princess.

"Canoe Song" from the Opera "Shenewis," by Cadman, was sung by Princess Tsianina in the native way. To this selection the princess used the paddling motion of the canoe in opposite action with that of the song. This is one of the features of the native Indian melodies. Oftentimes a song is sung in one time, gestulations made in another, and conversation going on in a still different time, all in the one composition.

A series of selections from various sources composed by Cadman and rendered by him were then given, followed by the closing numbers on the program, including "The Spring Song," the Robin Song and "Indian Lament," sung by Princess Tsianina. As a closing selection "At Dawning," world famous vocal classic composed by Cadman, was sung by the princess in her winning, pleasing way, receiving the sincere applause of the audience who had listened, infatuated, carried into ecstasy, by the rendition of the alluring folk-songs, love songs and laments of the American Indians.

FOR $100,000 PRIZE

Jury to Study 22,165 Plans to Achieve and Preserve
Peace in Bok Contest

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The jury which will award the $100,000 prize, offered by Edward Bok, for the best practicable proposal to achieve and preserve peace, begins today the monumental task of picking the winning plan from the 22,165 which had been submitted at the close of the contest last night. Remedies proposed to end war came from men and women scattered among 22 nations.

Announcement of the winning plan is expected by Jan. 1. For a month the jury of award, of which Elihu Root is chairman, has been going over previously submitted manuscripts, but the real process of selection starts today with examination of the flood of proposals that poured in as the time limit drew to a close.

The winner will receive $50,000 when the jury's announcement is made, and an additional $50,000 if the plan is approved by the United States senate or when the jury has decided that an adequate degree of popular support has been shown for the chosen remedy.

A nation-wide referendum on the selected plan will be conducted in January of the award policy committee, whose members include John W. Davis, Nathan L. Miller, Mrs. Clifford Pinchot, Mrs. Osgood Reid, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Henry L. Simpson, Melville E. Stone and Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip.

Members of the policy committee estimated that at least one-fourth of the contestants were women, judging by the number of requests received from women for information on the contest. Conditions of award were distributed to 200,000 individuals, endorsed at numerous conventions and circulated by a co-operating council of 88 national associations with a combined membership of 42,000,000.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief?
Why cutting and operations fail?
Do you know the cause of piles is internal?

That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel?
Do you know that there is a harmless remedy discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID, now sold by Green's Drug Store and druggists generally, that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID hastens piles by removing the cause, by freeing blood circulation in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for cure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sufferers. There is no reason why it should not do the same for you.—ADV.

Tanlac Ended Ten Years of Stomach Trouble, Declares Lang

W.T. LANG
William T. Lang, a prominent resident of 59 Vestry Street, Haverhill, Mass., pays high tribute to the merits of Tanlac. He says:

"No one can imagine, or conceive of the pleasure that was mine when I found myself a well man, after being in such a bad way that my case seemed hopeless. I was free from stomach trouble and the miseries that go with it, for the first time in over ten years. Seven bottles of Tanlac were worth their weight in gold to me, and more."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over $7 million bottles sold.

Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills.—ADV.

ASSISTANT
Dr. George F. Zook is the newly-appointed assistant commissioner of education. He will retain his position as chief of higher education.

TAX REDUCTION DUTY OF CONGRESS, SAYS BORAH

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Reduction of taxes at the next session is the "plain, immediate and imperative duty" of congress, Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, declared in a statement published today, in which he asserted the evil effect of the present burden, both economically and morally, demanded a downward revision.

What he saw as the present policy of republican organization leaders in congress to delay a reduction of taxes must certainly prevail, Senator Borah said, unless those favoring reduction go to work on an affirmative program. If they do not, he declared in all probability the next session will see an increase instead of a decrease in public expenditures and taxes. Noting a "strong indication" that the taxpayer himself is about to "turn upon his torturer," Senator Borah warned that "it may prove a hazardous enterprise for a congress to face a constituency next year upon which it has piled vast sums in addition to what that constituency already is wrestling with."

VOLSTEAD VOLUNTEER HIMSELF ARRESTED

In speaking of the trials of prohibition sleuths before the opening of court here this morning by United States Commissioner Richard Brook Walsh a funny wheeze regarding the troubles of a volunteer dry worker was told in the councilors' room.

It seems in Worcester there is a John Rogers who has been active as a volunteer aide to the Volstead law enforcers and has been instrumental in securing the arrest and conviction of many bootleggers. Yesterday he imbibed a bit too much of the fluid that cheers and was arrested as a drunkard by an unsympathetic cop despite his persistent pleas for immunity on the ground he was "getting evidence." He said he was sampling a cache of liquor he had stumbled across and forgot himself insofar as he did not temper his lava for his work with a bit of discretion.

The desk sergeant at the Tamarine station took one whiff of the jolly Rogers' breath and decided there was evidence aplenty to warrant booking the Volstead volunteer as a violator of hats New Paris importations in millinery show them on the brims and crowns of the new tailfours.

England and America have been polo rivals since 1886.

No Baker's Cake When
This Boy Is Around

SCOTT PHILIPS

By NEA Service.
TOLEDO, O., Nov. 15.—Imagines, if you can, a healthy youngster of 12 who would rather bake cakes than play baseball. Well, you will find him here in the person of Scott Philips.
To him the kitchen appeals far more than the classroom or gridiron. Ever since he was 8, Scott has been mixing up toothsome pastries.
And today he is the champion cake baker of Northern Ohio.
His delectable devil's food won him the decision in a recent contest over several hundred women competitors—women who prize themselves on their cake-baking abilities.
But cake baking isn't his only achievement. His teachers say he is mighty with the brush and water colors. "I'd rather be a baker than an artist, though," Scott declares.

More Hook-Ups for Radio Fans

Laurence M. Cockaday is one of the amateurs who came upon a hook-up that now carries his name. It is called the Cockaday, or Four-Circuit Tuner. He has brought out other contributions to the science, and is shown here at work on a new hook-up of his invention.

Along with radio's popularity, comes the question of popular interest in its technical development.

That, proof shows, is about as high as the new science itself. Just as ever radio fan has won over others toward a greater interest in broadcasting reception, he himself has become a convert to the actual development of the science.

Thousands of fans, old and young, are daily scanning radio publications. If they're not seeking information from radio sales clerks, for ways to improve their receiving sets. Hook-ups are as popular as ever, and parts are being improved regularly.

By far the greatest interest in this branch of radio lies in the hook-up. At first it was the simple Copp circuit. Then came the regenerative circuit, which brought out the name of Edward A. Armstrong as one of the greatest radio engineers of the country.

All For Better

But hardly had his fame reached the peak when other more complicated hook-ups were produced. There came the neutrodyne, considered among the most efficient hook-ups extant. Then the reflex and other arrangements of parts by which it was believed a listener could improve his receiving set.

Yet this is only the beginning of the technical development of radio. Engineers are still striving to eliminate interference, and for this they experiment with hook-ups and new parts with the hope of gaining their goal this way.

All their movements are followed zealously by the true radio fan.

Amateur's Chance

In this, the radio amateur is the leader. He is the one who is always tearing down and building up his set. And it is he who comes forth, now and then with a new hook-up which he believes may revolutionize radio.

The Grimes reflex circuit, one of the famous hook-ups of today for which the inventor is said to have received half a million dollars, is the product of an amateur's brain. His experience is typical among young amateurs, anyone of whom may come out one of these days with even a more effective hook-up.

This universal search for better hook-ups promises to maintain its popularity among the fans, at any rate until the ideal set is found. This ideal achievement, as engineers see it today, would be one that would work well under all conditions of weather and other disturbances, which would

OH HORRORS!

Girls take a good look at this! It shows one reason why fond mothers raise their boys to be soldiers. This lad, the top of whose head you see, is having a permanent wave put in his hair—said to be the very latest in New York.

King Dissolves Parliament

is engaging the close and earnest attention of my government.

"The arduous negotiations for peace with Turkey, begun in November, 1922, have, I am happy to say, been brought to a successful conclusion. A bill to carry into effect certain provisions of this settlement reached at Lausanne on July 24, will be laid before the parliament as soon as possible. It is my earnest hope that the conclusion of this treaty may bring real peace to the Near East and may herald an era of political and commercial prosperity for Turkey and for the countries which are renewing friendly relations with her.

"Negotiations are proceeding with the United States government for the settlement of difficulties with regard to the carriage of liquor in transit and illicit importation into the United States.

"I deplore the disaster that has recently befallen Japan. The heartfelt sympathy of my country is with the Japanese government and people—our former allies and our close friends—who are bearing this national tragedy with characteristic fortitude and heroism.

"My government welcomed the opportunity afforded them during the last few weeks of meeting so many of my ministers from the self-governing dominions and the representatives of India. The conferences just terminated were marked throughout by a spirit of great cordiality and good will. Important questions affecting the foreign relations and the defense of my empire were carefully examined. Particular attention was devoted to the promotion of trade and settlement within the empire upon which the well-being of my people so largely depends at this time. I am convinced that meetings of this kind are of the highest value in promoting a spirit of mutual co-operation amongst my people at home and overseas.

"Members of the house of commons, I thank you for the provision you have made for the public service.

"My lords, and members of the house of commons, the position of agriculture and the problem of unemployment throughout the country continue to cause me deep anxiety. Despite all efforts of my government to attract trade and alleviate distress, the circumstances of large numbers of our fellow citizens still remain deplorable.

"My ministers are convinced that urgent measures for the safeguarding and development of home markets are adopted, no permanent improvement in their situation can be expected."

Attendance at the final session was small for most of the members, knowing that dissolution was to be announced this morning, had already hurried to their constituencies to begin the intensive election campaign. In the upper house, only seven lords and a bishop were present, while in the house of commons, most of the seats were empty.

Both houses rose as soon as the king's speech had been read, thus ending the life of this parliament.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Physician's Discovery Safely Reduces It to Normal and Drives Spells of Anger

If your blood pressure is too high you cannot pass a life insurance examination.

Perhaps you don't know that you have this serious trouble which often causes apoplexy and unexpected death, but if you suffer dizzy spells, shortness of breath, hot flashes, are nervous, moody, or don't sleep well, your blood pressure is undoubtedly higher than it ought to be even if you don't realize it.

Norma, the prescription of a Buffalo physician, reduces high blood pressure, then all the ailments caused by this abnormal and dangerous condition quickly disappear. A. W. Dewes & Co. and reliable druggists everywhere have a big demand for Norma. It has helped thousands and should do the same for you. Be sure to ask for Norma as this is purely vegetable and guaranteed to contain nothing harmful.

enthusiasm by the members. Mr. Gannon replied in a fitting manner and told of his plans for the club and of the qualities essential to a dramatic organization.

Rev. Fr. Richard Goswell of North Cambridge, who is the esteemed friend and former director of the club, and Mr. Gannon were the guests of the evening.

Important business was transacted regarding the selection of a new play and cast. The play, which will prove to be better than anything the club has ever presented, is a royalty play of the better class, and the townspeople are anxiously looking forward to the night of its presentation.

After the business meeting a most delicious chicken supper was served by the hostess, Miss Mary McCarthy, assisted by Miss Blanche LeBlanc.

A very enjoyable social hour, in which everyone participated, concluded a very pleasant evening.

INTER-CITY SOLVENT CREDITOR DECLARES

A petition to revise in matter of law the proceedings in federal district court, in the bankruptcy case of the Inter-City Trust was filed in the United States circuit court of appeals in Boston yesterday by counsel for Frank Palmer, a creditor.

The petition says that the federal court has no jurisdiction over the Inter-City trust as it is a real estate investment trust and is not subject to be adjudicated a bankrupt nor to have its assets disposed of under the bankruptcy act.

The petition contends that the Inter-City trust is solvent by more than $250,000. It asserts that all challenges to the jurisdiction of the federal court, filed in that court, have been dismissed, and that the court has adjudicated the Inter-city trust a bankrupt, and that receivers have been appointed.

"Similar trusts with millions of dollars invested in real estate are now in existence in Massachusetts," the petition goes on. "If a precedent is established by adjudicating this trust a bankrupt all said trusts will be vulnerable to attack and destruction in the bankruptcy court and the security of investments in this form will vanish."

Prayers of the petition include the following:

That the court rule that the adjudication of the Inter-City Trust as a bankrupt be declared null and void.

That the court order the dismissal of the case from the files of the district court.

That the circuit court vacate all orders and decrees entered in the case by the district court and by referee in Bankruptcy Arthur Black.

PUBLIC RESPONSIVE TO LEHIGH APPEAL

Louis A. Olney, professor of chemistry and head of department of textile chemistry and dyeing at Lowell Textile school, and chairman of the $4,000,000 Greater Lehigh fund campaign in the upper New England district of which this city is a part, told of the generous support of the general public as well as of the members of the Lehigh family, in a statement issued here today. Persons never affiliated with Lehigh in any way, he said, have shown in a material way their appreciation of the position the Bethlehem, Pa., institution holds in the training of technical men for scientific progress and industrial development in America.

Numerous instances of generous support of the $4,000,000 Greater Lehigh fund campaign from non-Lehigh sources have been reported to national headquarters.

vitalized republican party and says coming contest must decide whether party is to be permanent instrument of reaction or shall respond to present day conditions and aspirations.

Dr. William J. Mayo at Boston asserts that so long as the United States has adequate supply of pure water there is no good reason why prohibition should leave the land; noted surgeon says curative value of alcohol is overestimated and its use for medicine, overdone.

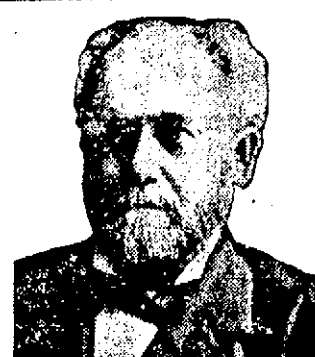

Senator Borah, in statement made public at Washington, declares reduction in present tax burden is a moral and economic necessity; affirms that disclosures affecting war veterans' bureau are specific, shameless examples of waste of taxpayers' money and of inhumanity to afflicted soldiers.

Senator Heflin, Alabama, says he will ask senate to investigate activities of a nationally known republican politician, who, he declares, is involved in land frauds; declines to mention names but asserts inquiry may concern men prominent in councils of the government.

House of Protestant Episcopal Bishops at Dallas affirms it to be urgent duty of the United States either to join existing League of Nations or some other council that will avert danger of another great war.

Three thousand University of Wisconsin girls condemn drinking by students of both sexes at that university.

Fifty Years Ago

A young man who practiced medicine in Pennsylvania became famous and was called in consultation in many towns and cities because of his success in the treatment of disease. This was Dr. Pierce, who finally made up his mind to place some of his medicines before the public, and moving to Buffalo, N. Y., put up what he called his "Favorite Prescription," and placed it with the druggists in every state.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has long been recognized as a tonic for diseases peculiar to womanhood. After suffering pain, feeling nervous, dizzy, weak and dragged-down by weakness of her sex—a woman is quickly restored to health by its use. Thousands of women testify that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has entirely eradicated their distressing ailments.

More recently that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's, called An-uric (for kidneys and backache), has been successfully used by many thousands who write Dr. Pierce of the benefits received—that their backache, rheumatism and other symptoms of uric acid deposits in joints or muscles have been completely conquered by its use.

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial pkg. of any of his remedies, or write for free medical advice.—Adv.

ANCIENT RIVALS MEET ON EASTERN COLLEGE GRIDIRON TOMORROW

80,000 EXPECTED TO WITNESS YALE-PRINCETON BATTLE

Syracuse to Battle Colgate, Pennsylvania to Line Up Against Penn. State and Pittsburgh to Oppose Washington and Jefferson—Other Games

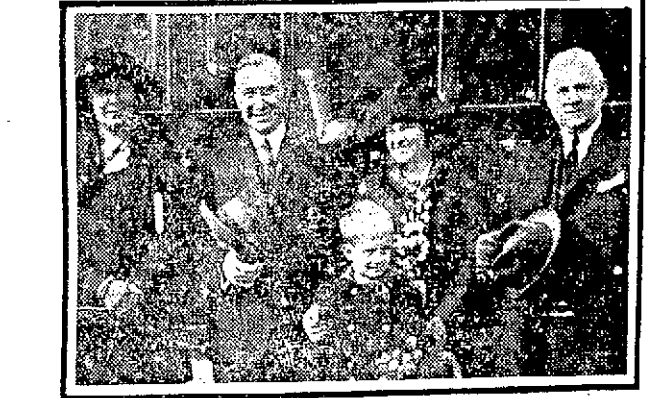

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (By the Associated Press).—The meetings of ancient rivals—Yale and Princeton, Syracuse and Colgate, Pennsylvania State and Pittsburgh, Washington and Jefferson—other games of eastern college football, marking the 50th anniversary of their first gridiron battle, outbursts all in general interest and will be witnessed by close to 80,000 in the Yale bowl. The rival teams have been specially primed for this contest and although Yale's all-conquering record might indicate otherwise, a closely fought battle, with the winner in doubt until late in the game, is the expectation of many close students of football play. The Yale game, concludes Princeton's 1923 season, and the Tigers, having suffered defeat from Notre Dame and Harvard, and then tied by Navy, will make a desperate effort to atone, in part at least, for their disastrous campaign. Superiority in kicking is expected to give the Tigers a potent advantage. Yale, however, is not the only undefeated combination which will be confronted by difficult opposition for Syracuse, in opposing Colgate for the 26th time in their series, will meet a worthy foe. Washington and Jefferson in renewing their time-honored struggle with Pittsburgh will face similarly, and Cornell, also undefeated, may find the proverbial center in John Hopkins, which has won its last five games. In each case the unbeaten team rules the favorite, but football fandom, mindful of the many upsets which have featured this season, is prepared for reversal when the final scores are listed. Other contests on Saturday's program, which will be followed with great interest, and whose results will affect the final ranking of eastern colleges, are those involving Harvard and Brown, Columbia and New York University, Williams and Amherst, West Virginia and St. Louis, Boston College and Villa Nova, Army and Colgate.

Still another engagement of promise is that in which the Quantico Marines will face the Haskell Indians. The redskins hope to assume Carlisle's old place in the hearts of eastern football followers, and in playing the Marines at Yankee stadium, tomorrow afternoon, will display their spectacular wares for the first time in this section.

Initial Game 50 Years Ago
NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Bursting of the one and only available ball held up for half an hour, the historic football game between Yale and Princeton in November, 1873, the first of a classic gridiron series that reaches its 50th anniversary tomorrow in the battle between the Tiger and Bulldog, at Yale bowl.

Accounts of the initial game a half century ago, say that the ball burst a few minutes after play opened from the impact of a "forceful kick." No half hour for repairs. This interval, it is recorded, was utilized by Princeton to lay a new piece of attack, which, when resumed, the Tigers launched an offensive that resulted in victory by three goals to none.

"Princeton excelled in following the ball," it also was written. "A Tiger characteristic that has found its modern echo in the machines turned out of recent years by Coach Bob Itope."

GOOD BYE, JAWN

The best team that Yale has had in years. That is the opinion of the football experts as to the Blue eleven of 1923 coached by Tad Jones.

Things have been breaking rather badly for several years at New Haven but it looks as if the team of this year will wipe out the disgrace of some past reverses.

Early in the year the game with Bucknell, Jones lost the services of his star back, Charley O'Hearn. A broken leg put him out for the rest of the season. It was feared the loss of O'Hearn would slow down the backfield but the team had the proper spirit and kept up its winning ways.

TEXTILE ELEVEN LAST CONTEST

Lowell Textile plays the U. S. Coast Guard team of New London, Conn., on the campus tomorrow. It will be the last game of the season for the Red and Black.

IN PRINCETON A. A. AND OAKLEAVES TO MEET

The dust will fly on the Lakeview ave. grounds next Sunday afternoon when the Princeton A. A. and the Oakleaves, two fast Centralville teams, clash in a gridiron duel that promises keen sport.

WILL LONG REMEMBER PALMER'S RUN

By NEA Service
CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—One of the toughest "breaks" a football eleven was ever handed came to the University of Minnesota in its game with Northwestern last season. It was enough to take the heart out of the most courageous aggregation, for it deprived the Gophers of a victory that was justly earned.

WILL WATCH GAME WITH MUCH INTEREST

Local high school football fans are interested in the big game at Lawrence tomorrow afternoon between the Haverhill and Lawrence high schools, regarded as two of the fastest teams in the state this present season.

INTEREST EVINCED IN SATURDAY'S GAME

The Princeton A. A. and the Oakleaves, two fast Centralville teams, will get into action on the Lakeview avenue grounds next Sunday in what gives evidence of being one of the neatest gridiron engagements in that locality this season.

FOOTBALL

The Butler Seconds will meet the fast Clipper A. of Lawrence on the old Fair grounds at 2:30 o'clock next Sunday afternoon. The Butlers whitewashed the Oakleaves on the Textile campus by a 20-0 score last Sunday.

New York, with a population of 5,620,918, has only 365,363 dwellings.

NEW BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Opening of Professional Set for Next Wednesday Night
—Clinton vs. Lowell

Plans are virtually completed for the opening of the recently organized New England Professional Basketball league, of which Lowell is a member, in this city on next Wednesday night.

The Clinton team is well known here having played in Lowell two years ago. It is one of the fastest in the state and the lineup used here in previous games remains practically intact.

Lowell team, which is managed by the veteran star Harry "Bucky" Lew, is expected to be a fast organization, one capable of giving any team in the league a battle.

Wakefield high will have a stiff proposition on her hands when she tackles Wakefield high at Alumni field tomorrow afternoon.

WAKEFIELD TEAM COMES HERE TOMORROW

Lowell high will have a stiff proposition on her hands when she tackles Wakefield high at Alumni field tomorrow afternoon. The players are in fine shape, however, after the strenuous game with Haverhill last Monday and will go against the Wakefield outfit determined to wipe out the stigma of the Armistice day defeat.

INTEREST EVINCED IN SATURDAY'S GAME

The Princeton A. A. and the Oakleaves, two fast Centralville teams, will get into action on the Lakeview avenue grounds next Sunday in what gives evidence of being one of the neatest gridiron engagements in that locality this season.

Heisman's Fate Hangs in Balance

By RILEY EVANS
Big things in football are just ahead for Coach John Heisman of the Washington and Jefferson team.

Coach John Heisman, former coach of University of Pennsylvania and Georgia Tech, is in his first year at W. & J. Up to date it would be proper to consider him a success, but two big tasks are just ahead for Heisman.

ball classic of the year from a W. & J. standpoint. The dope gives Heisman better than an even chance to defeat Pittsburgh, but against West Virginia it's another story.

Due to the fact that W. & J. had one of its best games of the year canceled, because of a dispute over West Virginia's eleven has not been severely tested.

Washington and Lee was scheduled to play the Presidents, but the southerners objected to playing against the colored halfback, W. & J. refused to withdraw him from the lineup.

FOR NON-ATTENDANCE AT BATTERY DRILLS

Capt. Charles Hodges, sitting in Westcott street armory last night as summary court, tried two local field artillery national guardsmen for failure to attend drills.

The other defendant gave sufficient evidence of physical disability to warrant dismissing the case against him.

Skirts for next spring are to be much narrower, it is rumored, and it is believed they will be much shorter, too.

WOULD BOARD UP DURKEE HOUSE

Restoration Would Protect
it Through Winter

Plans Approved for Rebuild-
of Original Structure

At a meeting last night of the public property committee of the city council and the architects named by the council to decide upon the methods of restoration of the old Durkee house, the latter reported on preliminary plans of restoration and requested that in order to save what little remains of the building, it be boarded up until plans are completed for its rebuilding.

Councillor Arthur Gones was chairman of the meeting and among those present were Councillors James J. Gallagher, Arthur B. Chadwick, Frederick A. Sadler, Daniel F. Moriarty and Architects Millard F. Davis, Harry Prescott Graves, Percy Gilbert and Harrison Byam, Henry L. Bourke and Edwin R. Clarke were unable to be present.

Millard F. Davis was spokesman for the architects and made a report covering the complete restoration of the building and presented plans showing the original house, as built in 1864, and the several additions that have been made since that time. He stated that as J. M. Wilson on Seventh avenue had parts of the original chimney, hinges, casings, etc., and was willing to have these put back on the old house, these parts would aid greatly in the rebuilding.

The architects asked for an extension of time so that they might have plenty of opportunity to draw up plans and also suggested that no work be started on the building until next spring. It was then decided to request the buildings department to board up the whole house so that the depredations that have been going on for years will be stopped.

Among the preliminary suggestions offered by the board of architects were the following:

Follow the whole building to a level. Remove all modern work such as partitions, plastering, etc., but keep the roof, as it is in good condition.

Remove the present modern chimney and rebuild it as it was formerly, using the portions now the property of J. M. Wilson. Fill in the cellar except the portion under the chimney. Restore the outside cornice by continuing decayed members.

Also, that only a portion of the house be restored, leaving the remainder as the construction embodies three different periods and would be interesting to the public. Finish one room on each floor.

As the court room on the second floor has a domed or arched ceiling, it would make an interesting study. Refinish only a portion of the walls and ceiling here.

Restore all outside windows and doors as only small portions of these are now left.

DEFENSE GETS VERDICT

Superior Court Jury Finds
Against McMahon in $5000
Auto Accident Case

A jury verdict for the defendants was returned before Superior Court Judge Stanley E. Qua here yesterday afternoon in the $5000 tort action brought against Fred J. Snow of Tyngsboro by Michael R. McMahon of this city.

Plaintiff asked damages for injuries sustained last December when he claimed he was struck and knocked down by defendant's auto in Rogers street, Tewksbury. He spent a week in St. John's hospital and following his release there claimed he was obliged to remain away from his mill for several weeks.

Donahue & Donahue represented the defendant while Thomas R. Higgins appeared for the plaintiff. The $5000 action brought by Ella M. Emery, widow of the late Nathaniel A. Emery of Lowell, against Martin A. Gage was next on the trial calendar. William H. Wilcox and Warren W. Fox are attorneys for the plaintiff and Nason A. Proctor and Alfred P. Sawyer are defense counsel.

In this action plaintiff sets forth that deceased sustained fatal injuries last winter when thrown from a sled owned by the defendant. The late Mr. Emery was employed by the defendant in her ice harvesting business, as a sled driver. The complaint alleges undue negligence in the care of harness, sled, and machinery connected with the business and that the deceased was not warned of the danger attending his work and further that there was a neglect to see that the ice was properly and safely loaded.

POSTMASTER MAHAN OF NEW LONDON DEAD

NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 16.—Bryan F. Mahan, postmaster of this city, former member of the 63rd congress from one of the Connecticut districts and one of the Connecticut residents of eastern Connecticut, died here early today, following a long illness. Besides serving his last year of his second term as postmaster of this city, and his service in congress, Mr. Mahan was one of the leaders of the democratic party in the state, having served in both house and senate and had been mayor of this city for two terms. He was 67 years of age.

"We do not advise that the house be restored enough for a caretaker to live in as this would necessarily cause sections to be covered up that the public should be able to see. We do not advise the Durkee house be used as a museum—at least not at present time," said the architects.

"We suggest that the old Perry road be graded and widened to Vermont avenue and that a sign be placed at the junction pointing to the Durkee house."

"As the old cell is all gone we would suggest that it be not rebuilt and that the cellar be filled in."

THROWN WHEN ON VERGE OF SCORE

A light brown driving horse, attached to a buggy, became stalled in Merrimack street near Shattuck shortly after 10 o'clock this morning and started on a wild run up Merrimack and Moody streets that was stopped only when a truck driver drove his machine across the street and stopped all forward progress.

In his flight the horse gave an exhibition of broken field running that would have thrilled a Jones, Haughton or Dobie. Holding a steady speed the canny horse sidestepped the first obstacle in his path, went up on the sidewalk near the side entrance of city hall to dodge another and left the buggy wrapped around a hitching post there. Unhindered by the buggy he accelerated his pace and easily sidestepped all other would-be tacklers, but failed to reckon with modern methods and was stopped when Ovid Roy of 36 Melrose avenue drove his lumber truck across the road.

The horse was tied to a post and blanketed, awaiting the arrival of the driver and the buggy was removed from the sidewalk in sections and also left for the owner to claim.

OLD TIMERS GATHER

Splendid Program of Entertainment at K. of C. Club House Last Night

"Old Timers' Night," a favorite event among members of Lowell Council, Knights of Columbus in the past, witnessed an exceptionally successful revival last night with about 800 "old" and "young" timers participating in a program of entertainment and games which surpassed all previous events of this nature.

Edward F. Slattery, Jr., lecturer of Lowell Council, was an ideal presiding officer at last night's exercises. Among the popular entertainers introduced was Edward Rowe, who made a distinct hit in his impersonations of Harry Lauder and his clever imitations of musical instruments. His "corner" solo was especially well rendered. John P. Rennie surprised everyone with the flexibility of his tenor voice, while Charles H. Burns, William F. Thornton, Michael J. Mahoney, James R. Coughlin, Thomas J. Dowd, Dr. Thos. F. Carroll, and Daniel McCaffery all contributed splendidly to the pleasing program. Mr. McCaffery, an old-time stage favorite and present ticket-taker at Keith's theatre, showed that he still retains his old-time ability. His number being chosen caused a few of his listeners to remark that he would be a real attraction on the Keith stage today. In addition there was chorus singing of old time songs led by Lecturer Slattery.

Besides the musical numbers on the program, there were two hotly-contested boxing bouts, featuring Peter Murphy and Joe Costello, and Johnny Duffy and Leo O'Neill. Leo Jones was the third man in the ring.

Among the prominent members present were Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan, chaplain of the council, Rev. William P. Drennan of St. Margaret's church, Mayor Donovan, and three former mayors, Hon. Dennis J. Murphy, P.G.K., Hon. James B. Casey and Hon. James E. O'Donnell.

In a drawing contest for a $7 Stetson hat, donated by Daniel S. O'Brien, Edward J. O'Day was the lucky winner.

At a brief business session, preceding the formal program, plans were discussed for the establishment of a debating team and other activities. Refreshments were served.

U. S. COMMISSIONER ILL

Cases Before Richard B. Walsh Scheduled for Today

Continued One Week

As United States Commissioner Richard Drabrook Walsh is confined to his home because of a throat affliction, no session was held today, several liquor offenders who were to have been given hearings being informed to return here one week hence.

Four Lawrence men were to have been arraigned for illegal liquor sale. They were John F. Mulcahy, Florio Phillipon, Joseph Drouin and Andrew Connolly. William Marshall, Peter Alasavich, Nicola Lucampo and Louis Russo, all of Bedford and charged with illegal liquor manufacture, were scheduled for hearings today.

Myer Arlin and Mayor Lipchitz of this city have been selected to represent Boston University Law school in a triangular debate with debating teams of the college department.

The chamber of commerce today received an invitation to attend the reception to Secretary of Labor James J. Davis in Memorial Auditorium Sunday afternoon to be given by Lowell lodge, L.O.O. Moose.

JOIN IN FIGHT FOR BETTER PAY

Nation-Wide Campaign for
More Wages

Local Union Represented at Big Meeting at Charles-
town Thursday Night

Lowell freight handlers employed by the Boston & Maine and New York, New Haven & Hartford railroads, have responded to the call from national headquarters of the Brotherhood of Railroad Station Employees and declared their unanimous support of the nation-wide campaign to secure better wages.

Local No. 2, which meets the fourth Friday of each month in Odd Fellows hall, Middlesex street, has had the wage question under constant debate for several weeks past, but until the present time no formal action was taken. The Sun was informed this morning that until more definite opinions prevail as to the amount of increase to be asked for in the wage-increase movement, no formal vote for official recording will be taken here. Local freight handlers are waiting to hear more from headquarters as to the proper increase demands to be made.

Lowell was represented Tuesday evening of the present week at a well-attended joint meeting of union freight-handlers, held in liberal hall, Charlestown, with leading union representatives of the employees' organization employed on the Boston & Maine, New York, New Haven & Hartford and Boston & Albany railroads on hand.

It was unanimously voted to file the required legal 2-days' notice for a change in the wage agreements not later than the first of the month. These men recently voted to reject or accept under protest the increase of one cent an hour, granted in a recent award made by the United States railroad labor board at Chicago, retroactive to October 16. They had petitioned for an increase of 12 cents an hour.
